A fire bomb attack was launched against the Andrew Hohn Construction Company office complex at Hoffman and Wyandotte Streets in Daly City early Tuesday.

No one was hurt in the bombing which roused neighborhood residents a half-block away and ignited three fuel storage tanks on the site.

The area is used as an office-vehicle parking complex for development of a $2.5 million luxury mobile home park on the western slope of San Bruno mountain.

Shortly before 2:30 a.m. two watchmen sleeping inside a trailer at the site were awakened by the first bomb exploding against the side of a combination gasoline-diesel fuel storage tank nearby.

Watchmen Walter Holloway and Dennis Matthews called fire units and moved equipment away from the blazing tanks, according to police.

The second fire bomb hit the side of the tanks but failed to explode and was later found lying beneath the 565 gallon gasoline and 881 diesel fuel tanks.

Both tanks were filled only hours before.

Hohn and Hutchins Associates are working to prepare a 55-acre parcel of land in the area for a mobile park and have dump trucks, bulldozers and other heavy equipment parked on the site.

A spokesman said security would be tightened at the com-

Lively Talk On County Waste

By FRANK LAPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

What to do with the county's mounting solid waste was the topic of sometimes lively discussion at Thursday's meeting of the North County Council of Cities meeting in South San Francisco.

County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald brought the proposal for a county-wide disposal site before the councils in an attempt to find out "which way to go."

The supervisor explained that the problem of solid waste disposal had been talked about for the past 12 years and little or nothing had been done to solve the problem.

He suggested the State might help in establishing a "revolving fund" where money could be obtained to buy suitable sites and which could be paid back without interest from scavenger fees.

If such a method were used, Fitzgerald said, the property would be owned outright by the county and after filling operations were completed the property could be used as a park or other recreational area.

But Burlingame councilman R. David Martin said he felt the county should not get involved in dump operations at Ox Mountain — or anywhere else — where a private firm was willing to step in and operate the facility.

"Let's take a look at private industry before we go to the county on this," Martin said.

Martin said the San Mateo Scavenger Company had indicated a willingness to handle all the county's garbage at a reasonable uniform price at Ox Mountain and asked "why does the county want to get into this?"

Fitzgerald replied he had heard the same talk for the past five years and time was running out.

"We (the county) are involved in Ox Mountain," Fiztgerald said. "We must issue permits and we must take the heat."

During his brief talk, Fitzgerald remarked that no incinerator plant had yet been found that met the rigid standards set forth on air pollution demanded by current laws.

South San Francisco's Frank Bertucelli informed the councils he had witnessed firsthand an incinerator installed in Montreal, Canada that met all requirements and handled "wet garbage" efficiently.

The plant, capable of disposing of some 500 tons daily, was engineered by the Rust Engineering Company, according to Bertucelli.

The basic argument between sanitary "cut and fill" and "incineration" was the cost factor, it was brought out.

Cut and fill dumping would cost about $62 million countywide, while incineration would top $178 million. County Waste Disposal Head Sal Armingta explained.

The threat of regional government takeover was brought forward by Daly City Councilman Frank Pacelli, a director of ABAG (Association of Bay Area Governments).

Pacelli said the county has to own the dump and then open the bidding for pickup to private companies—similar to the present Daly City Scavenger Company-City Hall arrangements.

"Cities must have some leverage in this (control of private companies). And if we don't do something soon, regional government will take over," Pacelli said.

Earlier this month the County Council of Mayors unanimously voted to support the supervisors in their proposal for a State fund to purchase sites.

It will cost some $2 million to get Ox Mountain in shape, Fitzgerald said.

San Francisco Scavenger Company charges to haul to Mt. View from county cities is about $6.50 per ton.

Ox Mountain could handle the traffic for an estimated $3 per ton.

"If the county is going to assume this, we must have authority from the cities," the supervisor said.

The support came from Fitzgerald's funding proposal in a vote that passed the Council 14-7.

Environment Unit Urged In S. Bruno

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

San Bruno's Councilman Ted Long, who squeezed out a victory in the recent municipal election on a platform of ecology, has laid groundwork to establish a local environmental control board.

Long, after receiving the blessings of the other councilmen, was assigned the task of organizing a steering committee whose purpose it would be to determine the feasibility of establishing the board.

He submitted a two-page proposal to the council in which he referred to his as yet unformed group as a commission. This term was changed when Councilman Maurice Hamilton pointed out that the group would not be a true commission in that it is not authorized by statute.

According to Long's proposal the group is to pass on all matters of environmental concern.

Long suggested the group would jointly view the agendas of the planning and parks and recreation commission, make studies and recommendations as to water resources, land management and air resources, review proposed variances, uses and effects of traffic problems, population growths and other environmental control.

It will act as the city's principal clearing house of pertinent environmental information, according to Long's proposal. And in identifying problems, it will also develop programs for the solution, and will act as the implementing body for those solutions when appropriate.

A second area of concern for the proposed board would be as an "action" committee which will make positive recommendations as to the specific

MORATORIUM CONTINUES

New Ideas, Camper-Trailer Ban Law Back To Planners

By WILL E. THOMAS
Post City Editor

City Manager Bill Masonheimer offered some new ideas that the Pacifica City Council seemed to think worth studying, so owners of campers, boats and trailers who park them in driveways and on the sides of their homes need not fear citation for violation of municipal ordinance—for awhile.

The council, more than two hours after opening Monday night's public hearing, sent back to the city planning commission the entire matter of an amendment to the zoning ordinance that details parking of recreation and utility-type vehicles.

Planners are to study Masonheimer's more liberalized approach to the law, as well as other recommendations on the subject.

Present Pacifica law prohibits parking of trailers, campers and boats in public view. But it is not enforced now; a moratorium exists, pending council action.

Masonheimer's proposals, not officially a part of the discussion Monday, would allow exceptions and institute a fee system.

The city manager proposed that those persons whose boats and trailers won't fit garages or backyards (actually, those vehicle owners who show a need for deviation from the ordinance) might apply to the city under a possible new exception section of the law.

Under Masonheimer's proposal, six-month permits to park trailers in heretofore illegal places would be allowed.

Such permits would be renewable, and would carry a fee, also good for six months.

Mildred Simons of Higgins Way supported the law banning front yard, in-view parking of campers, trailers and boats, both from a safety viewpoint and the fact she doesn't "like to drive down the streets and see boats, trailers and contraptions" that might destroy the beauty of the city.

She said he believed such vehicles should be in the rear of properties or screened on sides, from public view.

To do anything else would "downgrade" the city, she offered.

There were a number of resi-

Commissioners Asked:

Resubmit Applications

Maverick San Bruno Councilman Dick Griffith Monday night asked that planning and personnel commissioners resubmit applications for the positions they now hold.

Griffith said the request "is not intended as any personal affront to any of these men, but a suggestion for fair play."

He noted that the commissioners are appointed for four years, but that they may be removed at any time by a three-fifths vote of the council.

"Our planning and personnel commissioners, in particular in the past, have been selected not at large from the community on the basis of objective qualification — but often according to the political support thrown to one councilman or another," said Griffith.

"Some of these commissioners might well be reappointed," he said. "But such an action (to resubmit applications to give new applicants a chance) would redound to the credit of all concerned.

"The winds of change are reflected in our recent election, but these commissioners are largely lame duck appointments of a rebuked regime which is largely developmental oriented," said Griffith. "What our electors have recently said is that they want an environmental emphasis — ecological, if you will.

"As a courtesty to the new council, and in deference to that electoral will, I am asking each personnel and planning commissioner to resubmit his application and qualifications for review in competition with new applications which may be called for," said Griffith.

Although Griffith did not seek immediate action from the council, he received some swift answers, particularly from Councilman Maurice Hamilton who momentarily (to use the term of the day) lost his cool.

"I don't like deliberate falsehoods," said Hamilton, stressing that appointments were made on a merit basis after re-

'Unusual Procedure'

Council In Daly City Opposes Annexation Bid By South S.F.

Annexation of a three-fourths acre parcel of Daly City land by South San Francisco was unanimously opposed by the Daly City council Monday night.

The matter is pending before the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) and an answer was requested by the Commission on May 20.

Daly City City Manager David Rowe said his office was never informed of the annexation move by South San Francisco until it was brought to his attention by LAFCO and subsequent requests for information from S.S.F. city manager Tom McKenzie were never answered

Rowe said the annexation move had not been initiated by the S.S.F. city council, but rather by McKenzie.

He called it "an unusual procedure," and asked the Daly City city council to vote against the transfer.

The parcel is within Daly City but actually owned by the State Division of Highways. It is located adjacent to a Daly City water pump station.

South San Francisco has intimated they want the land in order to make a neighborhood playground and entered into a 50 year lease with the Division of Highways last June.

Why South San Francisco wants to annex the land bewildered city attorney Albert Polonsky.

"(They) can use it on their current lease (with the Division of Highways)," Polonsky noted.

Councilman McRobert (Mac) Stewart said the way in which the annexation request was handled "frightens me."

"We have to defend a piece of city property before LAFCO on May 20 and we didn't know about this until this late date," Stewart said.

Rowe suggested that the council tie in the straightening of the city boundary with the annexation protest, however, councilman Frank Pacelli favored dealing with one matter at a time.

Pacelli said he wanted the annexation hearing first and "nothing else tied in at this time."

A D.C. Coronary Care Ambulance?

The San Francisco Ambulance Service has asked Daly City for a prmit to operate its specially designed coronary care ambulance within the city.

Presently the heart units are hooked up to the system at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco. However, necessary receiving sets can be installed at any hospital for a cost of about $700 per unit.

A public hearing on the ambulance application has been set by the council for June 8, at 8 p.m. in the city hall, 90th and Sullivan avenues.

In addition to the mechanical equipment, specialized technical training of ambulance attendants assigned to the company's coronary units is conducted on a weekly basis, according to Mt. Zion acting executive director W. R. Schroeder.

Daly City officials began discussing the new system during a public study session last week.

The new program was started at Mt. Zion last January and has received the support of hospital physicians, Schroeder said.

What the system does is place the suspected coronary patient in direct contact with the hospital sooner than ever before because of a two-way phone system installed in the ambulance, along with an electrocardiogram machine.

Doctors at the hospital can evaluate the EK signals being sent by the ambulance en route to the hospital and phone back advice using the unit's communications system.

Adrian C. Moorman, general manager of the ambulance company, said trained personnel operating the coronary ambulances "is perhaps the greatest asset that the (San Francisco Ambulance Company) can offer the citizens of Daly City."

The overall operation of the unit is simple:

The family physician calls the hospital and asks admission for his patient—a suspected coronary case.

"On his request the coronary care unit at the hospital is notified to expect a radio transmission.

The ambulance picks up the patient, hooks him up to the EKG unit and begins transmitting to the hospital.

The EKG signal is picked up by the ambulance's

Reform Issue Widens Ryan, Lycett Split

That split between Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett and Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan grew wider Monday.

Ryan, a Democrat, came in for another sound tongue-lashing from Lycett, also a Democrat, because of the assemblyman's refusal to take any stand on Governor Reagan's tax reform bill.

"He (Ryan) should be brought to task for this shameful thing that he did," Lycett said.

The outburst came at the council's regular session during a discussion on tax burdens being shouldered by senior citi-

San Bruno Council Joins Asia Debate

San Bruno's City Council Monday night on a 3-2 vote urged the President to withdraw United States' military personnel from Southeast Asia.

Councilman Ted Long offered the resolution "to be sent to President Richard Nixon and appropriate governmental agencies."

The brief statement read, "The continued commitment of American military forces in Southeast Asia is seriously draining the human and material resources of the nation and community.

"The city council of the City of San Bruno does hereby urge the President and Congress to take timely steps leading to the withdrawal of America's military presence in Southeast Asia.

Prior to action on this motion councilmen filed a letter from Will Slocum, 444 Linden Avenue, that called for "immediate" cessation of hostilities and withdrawal of "all troops."

And another letter from Harold C. Gregory, 141 Madison Avenue, seeking councilmen to support state legislation to enable youths to refuse to serve in an undeclared war (as was done in Massachustees) never got off the floor either.

Councilman Dick Griffith made a motion to support the legislation so as, "to put the council on record," but it died for lack of a second.

Griffith went along with Long's motion, questioning the import of the word "timely." Long said the individual should let his conscience be his guide.

Councilman George Corey was the third favorable vote. "The mood of the country has everyone much involved," said Corey. "I think this council has an obligation to say in principle that we agree with the intent of the resolution."

Said Councilman Maurice Hamilton, "The wording is innocuous enough. But we have studiously avoided matters of national policy.

"We complain when the state and federal government steps on our toes in violation of home rule," said Hamilton. "I feel this is a matter of national policy. Although I feel the wording of this resolution doesn't take any strong position, I'm concerned about the precedent. I don't think this city council has any business doing this."

Mayor Neil Christal, siding with Hamilton, was a bit more critical. "You're being misled by emotions not facts," he said to the crowd as well as to fellow councilmen. "This is not the time to start making snide remarks at the federal government. We should voice our opinions as individuals.

"I don't know all the facts," said Christal. "But I can't see a governmental body taking a stand. I fought for the flag once and I'll do it again. I object to resolutions such as this." Mrs. Sylvia Gregory of 141 Madison Ave., was the most verbal.

"The council has been asked three (including the two letters turned down) different times by the consitutents to take a stand on the most vital issue of the day.

"It is being shortsighted of this council to believe that it is not vital as public officials to respond when asked by their constituents to do so," said Mrs. Gregory.

"We are coming (to the council) as local representatives asking you to take a strong stand in representing us to the (federal) government as local home rule opinion. When 65 cents of every tax dollar is spent overseas, it becomes a local thing."

John Barnard of 462 W. San Bruno Avenue, gave the other viewpoint, saying, "We (the people) don't have all the facts available," and "no man in his right mind is in favor of war."

Numerous other residents spoke, giving their side. Included was Huge Wade of 1830 Monterey Drive, who said the councilmen were not elected to take on national issues.

Long, whose resolution began the debate, moved to cut off the discussion by seeking to have the council chambers available to residents wishing to discuss the Indo-China situation, but not under council auspices.

ceipt of applications, screening and interviews.

"Before I got on the council this (political appointments) was the case," said Hamilton. "But I've worked hard to institute the merit system and that's what is working now."

Councilman George Corey said, "We've chosen good people based on good qualifications. Undoubtedly there are times when we do choose persons not best qualified, but we've chosen the best qualified of those that apply.

"I would certainly encourage my friends to apply," said Corey. "Because they are good people. And politicians do as a rule have the community interest at heart."

In rebuttal, Griffith said, "Four of seven planning commissioners are consistent and active supporters of Mr. Hamilton, a fifth a supporter of Mr. Corey. And two of four personnel commissioners are consistent and active supporters of Mr. Hamilton."

Councilman Ted Long, who opened by saying he was not taking a middle of the road stand, as stated last week in the press, rather he was taking a "wait and see" attitude before being critical, said, "It's pretty difficult to attend meetings and not adopt views of someone.

"Speaking as a former member of the personnel commission who did not resign (for the council race), I was embarrassed when I got the commission appointment. I didn't even know I'd had it until I read it in the paper," said Long.

Mayor Neil Christal's contribution to the discussion was that, "This (suggestion and discussion) is good in that it brings forth the elements of a democracy. As long as the majority rules, it is good," said Christal.

JACK KENDREE

Manager For Doelger To Leave Post

U. R. (Jack) Kendree Friday announced he is leaving the Henry Doelger Corporation to join the firm of Hunt's Quality Donuts Inc. effective June 1.

Kendree has been associated with the Doelger firm as managing director of shopping centers for the millionaire developer for the past 20 years.

"I am leaving with much regret and many fine memories," Kendree said in announcing his resignation.

In recent months Doelger has sold most of his major commercial holdings and is expected to soon make another big sale of his remaining shopping center at Fairmont. Such a sale would leave the developer with eight service stations and 3,000 apartments, primarily in Daly City.

Kendree will assume the Executive Vice Presidency of the Hunt's Donut chain which stretches throughout the Bay Area.

He was foreman of the 1969 County Grand Jury and has been a director of the Daly City - Colma Chamber of Commerce for the past 15 years — president of that civic group in 1956.

Kendree started the influential Daly City Rotary Club in 1954. His aife, Gertrude is Chairman of the city's Library Board of Trustees.

TOM KEENE is the new manager of Walgreen's in Westborough Shopping Center, South San Francisco. A native of Minnesota, he started with Walgreen's at Hillsdale in 1968, later moving up to assistant manager at Palo Alto.

zens and others on fixed incomes.

Lycett acknowledged the current tax load is also a tremendous burden for young homeowners to bear.

The mayor said he had read a recent newspaper editorial that indicated Governor Reagan's tax reform bill was completely cold-shouldered by the Assembly's Democrats.

"I've always felt it would be shameful if partisan politics were to enter into this (tax) matter," Lycett said. "I'm not trying to tell (the Legislature) how to vote, but just to vote."

He explained that when Reagan's bill came up the Democrats refrained from voting either way.

"They sat on their hands. That way their votes do not register either way — for or against the bill," Lycett explained.

This would include approving or disapproving landscape plans, traffic patterns, waste and disposal facilities and other environmental situations.

In addition, the group will propose methods of financing solutions to problems and "will act as the public conscience in viewing the city's environmental growth generally."

Two prerequisites were proposed by Long as qualifications for selection to the board. (1) Each member is to have had an active roll in some phase of environmental control, such as biologists, engineers, chemists or consevationists. And (2) members will be selected based on their scientific or technical background, with one member being a leading conservationist and not necessarily technically trained.

The transmission is interrupted by the hospital from time to time to maintain voice communications between the attending physican and ambulance on care of the patient.

Moorman said his company now has seven coronary units operating — the largest such fleet in the nation— and he has no intention of pursuing the existing emergency contract between the city and Mercy Ambulance company, however his vehicles would be available if needed.

The ambulances would be based at 98 East Market Street Daly City, if the permit is approved.

Open House Days

The week of May 10 through May 15 has been designated National Police Week by President Richard Nixon. In keeping with this proclamation, the South San Francisco Police Department will conduct and Open House during May 12, 13, and 14 from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. In addition to the Open House the Police Department has arranged to show several motion pictures that are intended to inform and entertain. Each film deals with a subject that is important to every member of the family.

The films will be shown in the Council Chamber of City Hall at 400 Grand Ave. scheduled for 7:00 p.m. on May 12 through 15. The following is the schedule:

Resigns County's H.R.C.

Resignation of Edward D. Morgan as a board member of the San Mateo County Human Relations Commission was received on May 5 by the County Board of Supervisors.

Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District, said his job does not leave him enough time to be as active as he should in the work of the commission.

Morgan is the first of the original 15 appointees named when the commission was organized in September of 1968 to resign.

Youth Dies In Accident

A South San Francisco youth was killed early yesterday when he was struck on the head while attempting to clear a moulding press at the Kransco Manufacturing Company, 424 Victory Street, where he was employed as a press operator.

Coroner Paul B. Jensen said that George C. Scrico, 19, of 425 Evergreen Drive, apparently was killed instantly in the 12:32 a.m. mishap.

Jensen reported that Scrico was attempting to clear a moulding press for polystyrene swimming pool floats, which was on automatic operation, and was struck on the head by a gate on the press.

The coroner noted that the red safety shutoff button for the press was about 12 feet from where Scrico could reach it. Investigation is continuing, Jensen said.

Camper-Trailer Law; New Ideas

dents opposing continuance of the law (It had been easy to determine the subject was on the agenda: numerous campers were seen parked on the streets near City Hall).

Hal Davis of the Pacifica Vacation Vehicle Association explained that there should not be a 72-hour limitation on parking of such vehicles under local circumstances.

He said garages are too small and that access to backyards has not been provided. Essentially, there is insufficient room to store the vehicles in any place but in front of the residences.

"It's physically impossible" to do otherwise, he pointed out.

Davis said health and safety factors were not problems — other laws controlled them.

He conceded, "I think appearance is what the big argument is about."

He attempted to counter previous claims that where there are parked boats, trailers and campers there are also unkempt properties. He's seen just as many poorly kept yards at homes that didn't have recreation vehicles parked there, Davis said.

He urged something "positive" be achieved, inasmuch as campers and trailers "are the coming thing."

Davis told of trying to work with the planning commission on easing of the camper-trailer - boat law and being "rebuffed."

Richard Meyer of Monte Verde Street acknowledged aesthetics surrounding the campers and trailers were varied, though hard to discern, because it's "all in the eye of the beholder."

Retirement For Marjorie Reandeau After Four Decades Of Teaching

A teaching career that has spanned more than four decades will come to an end when Marjorie Alice Reandeau leaves the Jefferson Union High School District this month.

The native Californian joined a staff of 15 other teachers at Jefferson High School in 1925. There were 156 students in those days.

The district now has some 10,000 students attending its three schools.

A dinner honoring the retiring teacher is scheduled to be held on May 23 at the South San Francisco Elks Club starting at 7 p.m.

Her list of professional accomplishments is long and include being the first salaried committee chairman for the Jefferson Teachers Association; president of the Bay Section of CTA in 1956; elected to State Council (CTA) and served nine years (the maximum) from 1956.

MARJORIE REANDEAU

She attended numerous conventions on behalf of her fellow teachers over the years in many parts of the nation and has visited several countries, including the Orient, Mexico, and South America, on teacher tours.

Since 1948 until the present, she has continued her association with various civic organizations, including service on the County Scouting Council. And she has been very active in local, county and state scouting associations.

With a B.S. degree from the University of California, Mrs. Reandeau also holds the elementary and secondary credentials from U.C., Berkeley, along with an administrative credential form U.C., Berkeley.

Another contribution Mrs. Reandeau has made during her career in the district is the assistance in establishing the Bay Section Credit Union and serving on the Credit Union Board of Directors — holding the presidency for five terms.

It's Spring Clean-Up Time In D.C.

For a fire-safe home, clean up.

This is the basic message of Spring Clean-Up, which starts in Daly City on May 15 through May 24, Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann announced today.

"Clean-up makes good sense for a lot of reasons," according to the chief. "It's a kind of anti-pollution measure all of us can take.

"But most important is it helps make the lives of you and your family safer from fire."

According to the National Fire Protection Association, which has been gathering and analzyzing fire records since 1896, more than a half million homes in this country were hit by fire last year. About 6,600 people died in those fires.

Rubbish is one of the top causes of building fires, the NFPA records show.

"So what it comes to is this: Clean up your homes — as well as your places of business — and the number of dangerous, killing fires will be cut. Our goal for Spring Clean-Up is to make every home in this community safer from fire," the chief said.

PERMIT DENIED

Pacifica councilmen Monday upheld the planning commission in denying a use permit to Ralston-Purina Company for the construction of a Jack In The Box Drive Through Restraurant at DeSolo Drive and Linda Mar Boulevard.

North County Council Of Mayors Votes Its Support Of Grand Jury

The North County Council of Cities Thursday noted 19-1 to support the findings of the 1969 Grand Jury regarding election of supervisors by district and increasing their number from five to seven "under 70" members.

Once a supervisor reaches the mandatory retirement age of 70, the Grand Jury felt he should retire.

The Grand Jury also recognized that supervisors should not hold office for more than two consecutive terms, in their report which was studied and shelved by the supervisors.

Attorney James M. Dennis, of the Redwood City law firm of Goth, Dennis and Aaron, appeared before the council of cities meeting as a "private citizen" and not in any official capacity connected with his offices he said.

Dennis said the five "more often only three" supervisors "are incapable of dealing with issues in the country."

Illness sometimes prevented supervisors from attending meetings and the load has been borne by two or three supervisors, he said.

Dennis said there were between 150-175 petitions being circulated around the county in an effort to gather signatures to be used to force the supervisors to put the questions to the public on the upcoming November general election ballot.

The Committee for Charter Amendments, which has Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett and James V. Grealish as co-chairman in the north county, is soliciting the 20,043 signatures needed to get the matter on the ballot.

Dennis felt confident the required signatures would be secured in time.

"All we want to do is give the people a right to vote on this matter," Dennis said. "It's apparent the supervisors won't let the people vote on the four issues."

Pacifica councilwoman (Mrs.) Grace McCarthy cast the lone dissenting vote on the matter.

MRS. LOUINE BOSTWICK

Elementary School Principal In Daly City Will Retire Soon

Daniel Webster P-TA will honor Mrs. Louine Paulson Bostwick principal of the Daly City elementary school for the past six years, on June 3.

The gathering at the Elks Club in South San Francisco will come just a few days after Mrs. Bostwick brings to a close 44 years' service to education, a period interrupted but for nine years for the rearing of her family.

Born in Canada, however raised in Wyoming, Mrs. Bostwick has been in the Jeffersn Elementary School District since 1945 — performing as a teacher, district level aide and as a principal.

She was a widow with five young sons when she returned to teaching during the great depression years.

For the next 20 years, she taught in Wyoming, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah, while her sons grew up, and she pursued studies at the Highland University in New Mexico and earned her B.S. degree at the University of Utah.

She eventually re-married and added two step-daughters to her growing family of boys.

After coming to the Daly City elementary school district Mrs. Bostwick contined her studies, receiving her master's degree and administrative credential from San Francisco State in 1952.

She has taught at the old Woodrow Wilson, lower Woodrow Wilson, Jefferson, Garden Village and Westlake schools.

From 1952-57 she was district curriculum coordinator.

Since then, Mrs. Bostwick has been principal of Thornton-Vista Grande, Olympia and Daniel Webster schools.

Her activities include membership in the JCTA, CTA, NEA and CEA, and she was a director of the San Mateo County CASCD from 1953-69 and is presently the secretary of the CASCD's Bay Section.

William Sowl is in charge of reservations and he should be contacted prior to May 20.

Manager Of San Bruno To Retire

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

San Bruno City Manager Gerard Vergeer has officially announced his retirement effective July 31, or a month sooner, if the council can obtain a replacement.

"Frankly, I just decided that it was time to relax," said Vergeer. "This is not an easy job. There are a lot of pressures, I'm tired."

Vergeer, 65 in November, will complete 25 years of service as a city manager June 5, nine of them in San Bruno. He has served in the managerial position in cities in Washington and Oregon.

"Actually, I planned to complete 10 years (at San Bruno)," said Vergeer, who has made no secret of the fact that he intended originally to retire next year.

"This seems to be a logical time. And my family in Washington has been urging me to retire for some time. I will probably help my son in his real estate business."

GERARD VERGEER

Vergeer's letter, dated May 1, marked personal, and sent to each councilman, said:

"After careful consideration of the pressures of this position, my age and other personal considerations, I hereby inform the city council of my intentions to retire on July 31, 1970. In the event the council is successful in filing this position prior to that date, I may be able to advance this date to June 30.

"As you know, I am working on the city budget and expect to deliver a preliminary budget by the end of the next (this) week. Every effort is being made on my part to arrange the date in such a manner as to cause the least inconvenience to the city.

"I take this opportunity to express to the council, my appreciation for the fine cooperation received these past nine years, and sincerely hope my replacement will be well qualified to carry out the responsibilities I carried since June 1961."

Asked if he had any recommendations for a successor, Vergeer stated, "the person should have experience, and particularly financial experience. Of utmost importance to a community is the fact that it should remain sound. A city without money can't do anything for the people."

Mayor Neil Christal said, "I think that he's been with the city through a period of tremendous growth, and exercised the proper managerial attitude for the best interests of San Bruno. He would be a credit to any city. His replacement will have a difficult job meeting his standards."

Councilman Maurice Hamilton's initial response was, "He is irreplaceable. He has worked long and hard for the city of San Bruno, and unfairly criticized by some citizens of our community who don't really know the contributions he's made to their health, welfare and safety."

Councilman George Corey said that he was dissappointed that Vergeer decided to retire. "I fear that we are going to find no single man will be able to replace Mr. Vergeer, in that his background and experience permitted him to function in a great many areas as city manager.

A New Suit Over Taxis At Airport

Charges that the taxi franchise at International Airport violates federal laws in several respects were filed in Superior Court on Friday by Charles S. Gush Jr., attorney for Milton Henke, owner of the Yellow Cab Company of Pacifica.

The assertions were made in support of a petition for removal of San Francisco's lawsuit to have the taxicab company banned from the airport. Judge Edmund Scott today ordered the suit to be held in abeyance pending a determination by the Federal Court as to whether it will take jurisdiction.

Gush's petition argues that the contract between San Francisco and the Yellow Cab Company of San Francisco violates federal anti-trust laws in that it fixes prices and "prohibits fair competition." It also contends that the parties are involved in a "conspiracy" to violate Henke's civil rights, and that the U.S. court should take jurisdiction because interstate commerce is involved.

San Bruno Planners Set New Officers

San Bruno city planners have named a new chain of command.

Commissioner Leon Miller has been named chairman, replacing last year's chairman Robert Tonneson. And Victor Ogrey was named vice chairman, the position held previously by Miller.

In other business the commissioners recommended adoption of a revised land use plan, over the opposition of Pacific Heights residents who anticipate and dislike highrise.

Hearing was tentatively set for May 18 on a possible rezoning for a planned development at the south end of Cresmoor Drive.

Commissioners also granted a use permit, subject to parking and sign restrictions, for a McDonald's hamburger facility at the corner of San Diego and San Bruno avenues.

Spring Fete Is Scheduled

Serramonte High School's first Spring Festival has been planned for 8 p.m., May 22.

Displays will include clothing, by Carolyn Landsbergen; Italian magazine articles and posters by Ed Bohnert; Black Studies by Harryette Rucker; science by Cliff Braun; art by Karen Quick.

Classical - popular music will be played by the concert, stage and pep bands.

The public is invited to the free Daly City concert.

THE LARGEST AND FINEST PATIO SELECTION IN THE BAY AREA

FAMILY FORUM

Mrs. Fassler To Be Feted By Realtors

"Under all is the land," five words that open the Realtor's Code of Ethics, have been selected as the theme of the 1970 observance of Realtor Week, May 17-23, according to Pacifica-Coastside board president Sandy Kasitz.

"Our observance," Realtor Kasitz said, "is one of hundreds planned throughout the nation this week to call the attention of the public to Realtors and the high professional services they render."

Local activities planned include presentation of a newly published book entitled 'Under All Is the Land" to the high school and public libraries in the Pacifica through Pescadero area, and to the Half Moon Bay and Pacifica Planning Commissions.

A dinner will be held on May 20 at Nick's in Rockaway Beach with the guest speaker to be Mrs. Jean Fassler. Mrs. Fassler will have just returned from the President's Committee meeting on Beautification and Environment in Washington, D.C.

Tickets for the dinner can be obtained from a member office of the local board and from the board office at 80 Eureka Square, Suite 111.

Xi Lambda Sigma Unit Sets Meeting

The final meeting of the term by Xi Lambda Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be held at the home of incoming president, Mrs. Harry J. Johnson, 252 Ferndale Avenue, South San Francisco, May 18 at 8 p.m.

The program "San Francisco Expositions" will be presented by Mrs. H. M. Shilling, who has arranged for a presentation by two South San Francisco high school seniors.

A scrapbook of the year's activities will be presented by the chapter to Mrs. Shilling, the outgoing president.

At a previous meeting, in the home of Mrs. Daniel O'Connell, South San Francisco, the chapter's sixth birthday was the occasion for champagne and refreshments.

Philanthropic Chairman Mrs. C. M. Sheridan's request for a $100 donation to the Crippled Children's Society of San Mateo County was approved.

"Girl of the Year" honors were shared by Mrs. Shilling and Mrs. Johnson at the recent Founders Day Banquet, as voted by the chapter members, an award given to a member who has most exemplified the aims and high ideals of the sorority during the preceding year.

'Expo '70' Influence To Be Seen

"Expo '70" will show its influence when the W.S.C.S. of the San Bruno Methodist Church presents its annual Mother-Daughter Banquet "Oriental style" on May 13 at 6:30 in the church social hall.

The committee is planning decorations in the Oriental motif and are asking the women to don colorful Japanese Kimonos, Hapi Coats or even a mandarin collared dress or smock, but they hope they do not stay away if they don't have a Kimono.

Guests will be entertained with a film on the Art of Japanese Doll Making, and will be treated to a dance performed by three members of Fujima Kai from San Francisco.

Climaxing the program will be a demonstration by Mrs. Jack Shinagawa showing the artistic way in which a Japanese bride is dressed in her formal wedding Kimono.

Gifts will be given to the oldest mother and the youngest mother present.

A 'Busy, Successful' Year

Florence (Mrs. Robert) Dickow, outgoing president of Xi Lambda Phi, Pacifica's only Exemplar Degree chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, is concluding a busy and successful year.

Cultural scholarships in the amount of $100 each are being presented to Oceana and Terra Nova high schools; donations were made to the memorial educational fund in honor of the sorority's founder, Walter W. Ross; to the National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation; to Beta Sigma Phi International funds which are used to support Cancer research, Girl's Town in White Face, Texas, and various other philanthropic projects.

The annual Christmas party, with gifts and entertainment, was provided at the Linda Mar Convalescent Hospital, and the chapter's Service Committee continues to sponsor bimonthly bingo parties for the patients.

Margaret (Mrs. Tom) Gatwood and Pat (Mrs. Joseph) George, members of Eta Gamma Chapter in San Bruno, and Thelma (Hrs. Mel) Loos of Pacifica's Tau Gamma Chapter, are progressing to the Exemplar Chapter. They and their husbands were honored recently at Xi Lambda Phi's Irish - Mexican Fiesta.

Election of officers was held at the home of Rosanna Hollander, 431 Del Mar. Those who will serve for 1970-71 are Marion Simmons, president; Grace Ryan, vice president; Ann Torrigino, corresponding secretary; June Nash, recording secretary; Rosanna Hollander, treasurer; Esther Perry, civil defense officer; Florence Dickow and Virginia Sharp, council representatives, and Lynn (Mrs. Don) McCoy, alternate.

TERRA NOVA HIGH TOPICS

By Anne Dryden

Terra Nova sophomore, Susan Koons, has won a fifth honorable mention in the Senior High Humor Poetry Contest of the 1970 California Poetry Competition for her poem, "I Feel For You." Her award will be presented at the Thirty-First Annual Convention of California Federation of Chaparral Poets to be held May 30-31 in the Georgian Room of Huntington - Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena. Susan's poem appears below:

I FEEL FOR YOU

Two cavemen sat upon a stone
In silence quite profound,
Throughout the morn they stayed that way
And Never made a sound.

At half past hunger one burst out
With sudden inspiration,
"Yo-he-ho, ta-ta, ding dong"
He spoke with agitation.

He then went on to tell a tale of Hunger, pain and woe.
"Bow-wow, sing-song, goo-goo," he cried
In words to make tears flow.

His friend just blinked and turned to stare,
His face was quite composed.
"Poo-pooh!" he said emphatically
Discussion thus was closed."

The Jefferson Scene

By RILEY ATKINS

Mrs. Marjorie Reandeau will be honored at a no-host cocktail party and dinner on May 23 to commemorate her 45 years of teaching at Jefferson High School. The affair will be held at the South San Francisco Elks Club.

Mrs. Reandeau, who will retire in June of this year, was born in Nevada City, Calif., and attended the University of California where she received her BS degree in Foreign Trade. Mrs. Reandeau began teaching in the district in 1925. At that time there were only 15 teachers who had to handle a student body of 156. On behalf of the entire Jefferson Student Body, good luck and best wishes in your years of retirement!

Joanne Kendrick, editor-in-chief of the Jefferson Tom-Tom, has been selected as the Most Valuable Staffer from Jeff on behalf of the San Mateo Times, and will be honored at the annual M.V.S. Dinner at Villa Chariter in San Mateo on May 13. Groups of six or eight students will be seated at tables with at least one San Mateo Times' representative to a table. Newspaper work, goals of the news media, plans, problems, and other items will be discussed by the students and their representative.

Selection of the Senior Class speaker will take place this week on the Jefferson campus. There are six hopeful students and only one will get the opportunity to speak for the Class of '70 at graduation. This year for the first time students of the class will have the chance to vote for the speaker they wish to have represent them.

The Jefferson Booster's Club is currently sponsoring a raffle to raise money for new uniforms for the Jefferson High School Marching Band. This is only one of the many campaigns underway to raise funds which have not been forthcoming from the District Office. First prize in the drawing will be a Home Entertainment Center, second prize will be a Stereo Component Set, and third prize will be a portable television set. The event will be held on June 4, 1970, and the donation is a dollar.

Community Concert In SSF Friday

The Community Choraliers, sponsored by the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department, will present their second annual Community Concert on Friday.

The free concert under the direction of Patti Parks is entitled "Chordially Yours" and will start at 8:30 p.m. in the Choral Room of the West Orange Library in South San Francisco.

Many of the selections will be from "Oliver" such as "Consider Yourself," "Where is Love," "Oom, Pah Pah," "I'd Do Anything," "As Long as He Needs Men" and "Who Will Buy?"

Girls' Glee, Orchestra In Concert

The orchestra and choral concert at Westmoor High School on May 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater, will feature for the first time the Girls' Glee and the Orchestra in combined concert.

The program will be in three distinct parts. Part one will consist of the Girls' Glee in their green and white robes singing in a formal style.

They will offer "Come Let Us Start a Joyful Song" and then in a cappella style, they will end with "Glory to God in the Highest." Part two will change to the orchestra who will play two selections by Le-Roy Anderson, "Plink! Plank Plunk" and "China Doll."

Just Imagine The Beautiful Things This 92" Long, Custom Quilted American Traditional Sofa Could Do To Your Living Room!
Sofa Reg. $569.95 SALE $399.95
Matching Loveseat with all the same fine qualities of the sofa. Makes a great conversation grouping to complete your new living room.
Loveseat Reg. $499.95 SALE $289.95
Any living room (even one a bit on the humdrum side) will take on fresh importance with this custom quilted traditional sofa dominating the scene! You'll find a really sumptuous sofa like this one is a splendid focal point around which to create an entire decorating scheme. In fact, when your sofa is positioned precisely as you want it in your home, you may be astonished at the wonderful difference it makes all by itself.
Then plop down on the thick cotton and polyfoam cushions. You'll marvel at the deep down comfort. This comfort is the natural product of carefully balanced pitch, deluxe 8-way hand-tied steel coils, and generous quantities of foam and cotton padding lavished over the quality kiln-dried hardwood frame. Examine this masterpiece in detail and you'll discover the kind of mastercrafting detailing usually found only in sofas costing many, many dollars more. Under the seat cushions, where lesser sofas use low grade linings, you'll find the seat deck is upholstered in the same fine fabric as the rest of the piece. Select from four hand-guided custom quilted floral print fabrics quilted on foam to give it a pouff effect, adding more detail and 3-dimensional beauty! The lined and weighted buttoned kick pleat skirt will always hang straight — always look fresh and neat.
The longest journey begins with a single step, they say. Make your first step toward a more beautiful home than ever with this American Traditional sofa. Resolve now, today, to see it in person here at Westlake Maple Shop. Then just imagine what this splendid sofa (and a little flair) can do for your living room.

Music To Be Touched

SPEAKING OF ROCK MUSIC, Julius Lester writes "the young (of the 1960's) knew that the sound itself was the experience, as it is with blues and flamenco. Music was not to be listened to. It was to be touched, to be held in the pores of the skin and on the nipple of a breast.

You became one with the sound and the sound became you. The music deranged the senses as did the drugs and one could perceive the world as Van Gogh had, could follow Blake's admonition and cleanse the doors of perception. Once cleaned, they opened upon a multi-colored world, vibrant, living in its tiniest part. The very atoms were real."

JULIUS LESTER is proving to be one of the most perceptive voices among young Americans. In his "Search for the New Land" he becomes the historian of the "revolution," explaining how it feels to be young in the post Hiroshima era—

"The Sixties is what happens when a child looks at his parents and hates what he sees.

"The youth of the Sixties refused to learn the lessons of compromise and rationalization which define maturity in this society. They had no choice because they were unlike any generation in the history of the world; they had come to consciousness knowing that the world could be destroyed."

The youth, he says, see America as a vulgar lie whirling around a Twentieth Century Commandment—"Blessed Is He Who Takes What He Wants and Don't Forget To Duck."

IT IS A LAND where rugged individualism has come to mean selfishness. Where empathy, even sympathy, have become empty words.

"Most people won't let you inside of them. We are educated to keep our 'I' exclusive, to protect it and shelter it, but when we are afraid to let somebody else enter ourselves, we don't live."

Against this world the youth rebel and as they do "They begin to like themselves for the first time and liking themselves, they like others. Love, Love, Love.

"Where whites (youths) were concerned about defining their lives,

THE MARQUEE

How And Why Of 'Woodstock'

Most kids have already seen "Woodstock" at the new Baronet Theater in San Francisco or made up their minds to. Some won't be able to afford it at the $4.00 tab (being protested by its creators against M-G-M which is distributing it) but producer Bob Maurice wants to set the record straight for those who might have preconceived ideas about how, and why it was made in the first place.

A gentle-speaking, non-promoting kind of guy, Maurice told how the incredible film found its way into commercial theaters, something of a phenomenon even to him.

"Both the director Michael Wadleigh and I are envigorated by being in uncomfortable situations. We were attracted to the Woodstock Rock Festival because there was no way of putting together a film that was sound. The major studios couldn't have done it no matter how aware they were of the potential. Their mouths watered," he began.

"And we didn't know if we'd be wiped out by rain or riot."

The two friends borrowed money from everyone they knew. Starting with $30,000 cash, and the rest charged, they rented every bit of 16 millimeter equipment from New York and all the film stock. When that ran out (they shot 120 hours of footage), they phoned Chicago.

"WE HAD NO PLACE TO SLEEP BUT I HAD PHONES run into a mud hole where I was positioned. I conducted my business from there, including tracking down misrouted film through three ststes.

"We were so glad there were no riots. We didn't want to exploit suffering and don't subscribe to the idea that violence sells. 'Fantasia' has always been my favorite film."

They went to Woodstock purely on speculation. Wadleigh photographed and positioned his 18 cameramen and 80 volunteer workers through a headset.

"We were squatters. We didn't have permission to shoot. Considering that we had no rights, the magnitude of the deal was incredible."

ALTHOUGH THE FILM RUNS THREE FULL HOURS WITHOUT INERMISSION the audience is really getting eight hours of music, since they use the split screen technique where sometimes three separate images are on the screen simultaneously.

"We used nothing but hand held cameras. And the photographers doubled as interviewers. The documentary film was collaborative, rather than directional. I had nothing to do with the creative end. I only functioned as a bodyguard to protect artistic design. We shot random, uncontrolled behavior and had no idea what we had until the editing. The editor became the script writer."

"The only problem was not making it a vaudeville show. Most of the entertainers were pleased with the results. They all got paid too. The choice of groups and soloists was purely personal. Thirty-five groups performed but we only featured 13."

"When it was finished Michael and I talked for days about how to keep it from being interpretive, not to make it slanted. We didn' want to conceptualize, or analyze or even understand the event. I don't think the film is an intellectualization. And it wasn't made for a teeny —bopper audience."

blacks were, too, so they went to war . . . There were no generals, no regiments, no battle plans. Just some bricks, a few guns, some matches and whole lot of anger, anger which started so far back in time that no one living could remember when it started."

Julius Lester sees each confrontation with "the establishment" as another battle in the war to free America of its "Supermarket liquor store clothing store" civilization.

"FROM SOMEWHERE SOMEBODY produces the poor man's atomic bomb, a Molotov cocktail, and with a right-hand throw worthy of a place on the starting line-up of any ballclub, it is lobbed into the nwo empty store and the night grows with orange flames and black smoke and the blackest of black laughter. Down the street the people run, laughing, proud, feeling good inside, while at the same time keeping an eye out for cops, dodging bullets and sometimes feeling like they've been reborn."

Speaking as a Negro he says Americans want the Negroes to be "white Negroes"—"And a haircut, shave and suit made them white folks any day of the week that they got tired of being niggers."

The Negro in America is lonely in a country surrounded by white people. What he wants is to be rid of "that loneliness which comes from being constantly among a strange people who don't know anything about me and are convinced they do."

IN VIETNAM, Lester writes, many Negro soldiers found himself with a people who understood him. "Yet I did know because of their gentleness was mine, their mud was mine, their hut was mine, their enemy was mine."

TIGERS ARE HUMAN!

Undefeated Year Slips From T.N.

One of the two main objectives Terra Nova High School baseball coach Al Figone set for his squad on Friday came off as an unqualified success but the other, continuing an undefeated league season, slipped away on the rain - soaked Tiger field.

The Tigers, 11-0 entering Friday's game against South San Francisco, were finally proven human. The visiting Warriors gutted through 10 rough innings and came out with a 5-1 decision, a win that gave them a firm hold on second place.

In other North Peninsula League action Westmoor edged El Camino, 2-1, and Serramonte got by Oceana, 2-1, in eight innings. The Jefferson, Half Moon Bay game, scheduled for Daly City, was called off because of wet grounds. It will be replayed Tuesday, May 19.

"Naturally we are disappointed at losing but one of our big hopes for these last three games was to get junior Bud Papadakis as much work as possible," explained Figone, whose team clinched the NPL crown four days ago. "He got a lot of work Friday and was impressive."

The Warrior pitching chores were evenly divided between righthanders Bruce Collins; five innings, five hits, three strikeouts and no walks) and relief winner Pete Enea (five shutout innings, three hits, three strikeouts, no walks).

The Warriors' triumphant 10th inning started when Rich Crumpton singled and went to third on Enea's single. Crumpton tried to score on Leo Bernardini's infield grounder but was thrown out at the plate. Brad Brian's sharp single then loaded the bags.

Brad Dahl hit a slow roller down the third base line but the throw to first went down the rightfield line allowing three runs to score. Papadakis then dropped the ball on the mound and balked in Dahl.

SSF had scored in the firs when Brian gained life on a fielder's choice and Pat Tolention and Dave Gutierrez followed with singles. Terra Nova tied it in the fourth when Mike Rawlings singled and was tripled home by Bob McClure.

Westmoor threw two runners out at the plate yesterday, the final one in a hectic seventh inning, and held on for a 2-1 win ver Camino. Junior lefty Mike Swallow went the distance for the Rams on a five - hitter. Rick Green took the rough loss on a three - hitter.

The Rams scored in the third when Ted Grey walked, went to second on Dave Riley's sacrifice and scored when Ed Nessel's popup to centerfield dropped for a two - base error. Westmoor made it 2-0 in the fourth as Gary Stoller doubled and Brad Kearns singled.

Then, after Brian Finnlayson's single, a walk to Gary Piscitello and an infield error made it 2-1 in the fifth, the Colts appeared ready to tie it up when Jim Sartin tripled to open the seventh. One out later, though, he was thrown out at the plate on a squeeze play and the Rams evened their NPL mark at 6-6.

Late - blooming John Stack fired a three - hitter as Serramonte upended Oceana in extra innings. Ron Beltramo walked to open the eighth, went to second on an infield grounder and scored on Don Giles single. The Regents, who also downed the Sharks in the first round, scored in the third when Don Thuener singled, Craig Gall was hit by a pitch and Hansen singled in the initial tally.

Oceana got its lone run in the fifth when Kurt Lupo walked, went to third on a sacrifice and error and scored on John Armstrong's single. It was the ninth one - run loss in NPL play for the Sharks.

LE PACINI

Sportscripts

"NATATORS OUT TO BREAK JINX, Records," blared a headline in Tiger Tales, Terra Nova's quarterly news magazine, over a story about the prospects of Terra Nova's upcoming swim season. Sports Editor Paul Baxter lamented over the Tigers' bad luck over the past few years, noting how the swimmers had won the NPL Relays in at least one of the three classifications, but had "not as yet been able to hold on to win a championship."

But was Coach Bill Belenis humble in the face of all this adversity, in the style of the stereotype coaches who, following the Crying Nellie Handbook, are thankful just for the joy of participating even if they must, in the large scheme of things, lose?

Not on your breastroke. Belenis, one of the new breed of optimists, listed for writer Baxter his goals as not just improving Terra Nova's luck and winning a championship, but in addition, rubbing the chlorine into the wound, so to speak, he added that he was also hoping for his swimmers to "break five of the standing NPL records and every school record in the process."

What happened was, the Terra Nova Varsity took the Relays, went undefeated in the dual meet season, and, we hate to say this but it's true, swamped the rest of the league in the NPL finals at South City last week. And, when last we checked, the Tigers had set five (of a possible nine) new school and two league records.

As Baxter had written and as Belenis had predicted in the early season article, "This year the Tiger Varsity . . . is looking forward to possibly the best season in Terra Nova's history."

We'd say that was a fair estimate.

THERE'S AN OLD CHESTNUT in baseball that a good trade helps both teams. We always thought that the companion piece to that one should be that a bad trade hurts both teams. But this year the Giants added a new dimension to the art of chestnuts for baseball trades. They have proven beyond a shadow of a doubt that trades aren't necessary to stay in second place or to keep your opponents from advancing themselves.

Take, for instance, their "big" one this year: Ron Herbel, Bob Barton and Bobby Etheridge to San Diego for Frank Reberger. San Diego saw Herbel as an ace, either starting or relieving, wherever they needed him; Etheridge as solving of their third base problem, and Barton — who had assured them he could be a regular with a chance to play, was assured he would be given that chance — as their first string catcher. Reberger was to be nothing short of the Giants' savior, starting, relieving, or leading the team in prayer before games.

Well, in reality, Herbel has seen only moderate success as a reliever (a kid from the Coast League probably could achieve as well), Etheridge and his ulcers and groin pulls are back in the minors, and Barton catches once a week, because when he was given a chance to play regularly he proved exactly why he had been third string for the Giants.

Reberger has managed to get the side out in batting practice once or twice (when throwing to the bottom of the batting order), and that's been the extent of it.

If we may digress, the cases of Barton and Reberger are especially curious. Last year the Phils offered the Giants Tony Gonzales, a lifetime .293 hitter with power, speed and defensive ability, even-up for Barton, but the Giants held out for more. Gonzales went to the Braves for someone we can't remember, and virtually won the pennant for them. The Giants' official reason for claiming Reberger was that, though his record was pretty mediocre, he had looked great against them. If that was their criterion for trading for a pitcher, the Giants could have claimed 90 percent of the pitchers in the National League.

BUT TO GO ON. Their next big one was Bob Bolin to Seattle for Steve Whitaker. Bolin wasn't even able to keep Milwaukee in Seattle, or something like that. He also never gets any batters out for his new team (teams?). Steve Whitaker strikes out when he plays, the latter of which he does far less than the former.

Of course, we can't forget Ray Sadecki and Dave Marshall for Bobby Heise. Sadecki hardly ever pitches for the Mets, Marshall does nothing else but hit grand-slams against the Giants, and Heise may be a good infielder, but how can he compete with a hotdog local boy (Gallagher) at third, one of the best shortstops in the league (Lanier), and a guy who wouldn't let him play second base (Hunt) even if Heise could prove to him that he's better?

Does this all mean that we think the Giant front office is inept? On the contrary, it's clever. It was able to change its roster without, apparently, changing it's standing, and in a day of 24 big league teams, anytime one can trade without hurting itself, it's a plus, because no team is about to help another if it can help it. Successful trades are usually luck.

Many more teams have won pennants through strong farm development than through shrewd trading. As has been noted many times previously in this column, most trades are made to shift trouble-makers, to shift big contracts, or to make fans think something is happening. Way back in November, we tabbed the latter as the trading pattern the Giants were following this year, and, unfortunately, so far it looks like we were right.

SUDDEN THOUGHTS: Isn't it ironic then Juan Marichal, for the first time in years in spring training on time, should be off to his worst-ever start. Maybe Juan has known something all these years. . . . If Dick Dietz, young and strong, and Willie Mays, old and strong, et al, are entitled to a rest at least once or twice a week, why isn't Willie McCovey, fairly young and awfully strong, but with bad knees, hips, eyes, etc., condemned to daily play, including double headers? Because the Giants need him to win, you say? You mean they don't need Mays, et al, to win?

LOCAL TAG ENDS: Jim Auleb recently became the first Pacifica Lion to win a gold medal at an AAU class A meet. Auleb won the 100 yard breastroke in 12.9 at a meet in Hayward sponsored by the Hayward Swim Club. . . .

And from Skyline college, big news on the wrestling beat there last week. Coach Lee Allen was named by the AAU as assistant coach for the Greco-Roman wrestling world team, which will compete in Canada in July. Allen's star wrestler, Don Wright, placed eighth in the 149 pound division in a field of 31 men contending at the AAU Wrestling Championships in Lincoln, Nebraska.

N.P.L. Finale

SSF Spikes Go Unbeaten

South San Francisco High School track coach Pete Giachetti, in his first year as head coach of the Warriors, had occasion to do a little celebrating Friday.

The freshman mentor, a protege of former Warrior coach Marv Ashby, watched on as his charges completed a perfect unbeaten dual meet season in Half Moon Bay yesterday.

The Warriors swept past the Cougars, 99-36, to post their 11th dual meet victory of the season and their sixth straight north Peninsula League triumph. South City thus established itself as the odds - on choice in next week's NPL Championships.

In yesterday's contest, which took place in the foggy environs of Half Moon Bay, the rugged brother combination of Tony and Potamoe Satoa spirited the Warriors to victory.

Tony won the long jump with a leap of 20-5, while brother Potamoe nabbed the discus with a 133-foot heave and then came back to win the shot with a 46-1 toss.

Another outstanding performance was turned in by Ron Brachowski, whose triple jump mark of 42-10 was one of the best in the NPL this season.

MPL Baseball

As Of Friday Cap, Dons Had Edge

Aragon and Capuchino have the inside track for the MPL baseball championship today with just two games left on the schedule.

Aragon, behind a heavy barrage and the unbeaten pitching of Dan Dela Cruz, beat Hillsdale 6-3 on Friday at Hillsdale to preserve a one-game lead over the Mustangs, who clobbered visiting Crestmoor 7-1.

The Dons' Dela Cruz, a winner in every league start this year, faced some rocky going Friday, but by that time his teammates had already supplied all the support he needed.

Dave Robb led off the Aragon half of the first inning with a home run. Then, with two out, Norm Freschet walked, Barry Goldman singled, and Myron Stumpf was safe on an error to load the bases. Then Hillsdale's Brad Metheany made a wild throw over the third baseman's head, allowing Freschet and Goldman to score.

Robb scored the go ahead run in the second when he singled, stole second and came home on George Fohner's single. That was all the Dons needed.

Metheany redeemed himself in Hillsdale's sixth inning splurge with a three-run homer, knocking out Dela Cruz, but Larry Hartman came in to cool the Knight bats and preserve Aragon's first-place status.

Cap stayed a bare game behind on the strength of some timely hitting and the five-hit pitching of Keith Hernandez as the Mustangs deluged faltering Crestmoor.

The 'Tangs grabbed a 2-1 first inning lead and held it 'til the bottom of the fourth, when they broke the game wide open.

Steve Bybee opened with a single to right center. Frank Dove followed with a long fly double, scoring Bybee, then Bob Wynkoop parked one over the fence in left. Dennis Haag walked, Dave Adornetto was safe on a fielder's choice which turned into an error leaving the runners safe on second and third. Hurler Hernandez drew a walk to load the bases and Haag came in on Terry Ruggles' infield out.

Mustang coach Don Laclergue is looking a little ahead, understandably, to this Friday's tilt with Aragon.

"We're not a long ball club," he said. "We're just going to have to overcome their hitting with superior pitching. And, of course, score runs, which won't be easy against a pitcher with Dela Cruz' control."

In the other MPL game on Friday afternoon, San Mateo moved into a fourth place tie with Hillsdale by edging visiting Mills 5-4, dropping the hapless Vikes even further into the cellar.

Man of the Hour for San Mateo was Joe Serena. Last week it was his one-hit pitching that turned the tide for the 'Cats; this week it was his bat.

Serena was three for three at the plate, drove in a run and scored twice. Not content with his exploits at the plate, hee made two double plays from his left-fielder's spot, throwing out runners at first and home.

The score was tied 4-4 going into the bottom half of the last inning. Serena singled, went to second on Chris Allemand's sacrifice, then advanced to third on an error. He scored the game-ending run on Jim Rosenthal's deep fly to right.

Burlingame was idle, but remains in third place, three games behind Aragon.

Segal Rolls 300, 299 Games –And Still Loses Tournament

Special To The Post

How can you roll a 300 game and a 299 game, but lose a tournament?

Ask Guy Segal, the 17 - year - old phenomenon from Westlake Bowl who rolled those games last Sunday but ended up in ninth place during the Mother's Day Handicap Sweepers.

Carl Steigerwald of Daly City shot 1457 with handicap and averaged 229 scratch to capture the $225 first place check with pro Les Barrett toting 1454 for second place and young lefthander Bob Hood rolling 1423 scratch for third place.

Even a woman, Sue Klear, beat Segal with her handicap by shooting 1406 with a 160 average.

It was the second big series for Segal. Earlier he rolled 234-232-237 for a 723 series in the Monday Mixed Fours.

Larry O'Brien topped loop action at Serra Bowl, rolling games of 214-267-215-162 for an 858 series in the Kings and Queens League.

Topping distaff action were two Serra beauties. Phyllis Shirley, a Friar Room waitress, traveled to Marina Bowl and rolled a 227 high game for a 609 series in the California Trophy Travelling League. Clara Meadows stayed home for 213-606 in the Electros loop.

Bill Rice, night manager at Serra, hit the boards with a 254 high game and 664 series in the 875 League.

The Tuesday Rebels have produced another queen. Ann Johnston, a young housewife, bowled a 190 game and 469 series to be selected Queen of the Week for shooting 130 pins over her 118 average.

Dottie Millard is opening up entries for the 13th annual Petticoat Swiess Tournament, a marathon affair July 19 which features ladies teams averaging 875 scratch from throughout the Bay Area rolling eight games on the same day.

Other events for Colma bowlers include no-tap competition in Wheel of Fortune bowling next Wednesday and special squads for the $20,000 Gigantic Handicap Doubles and Singles at Downtown Bowl.

Westlake Merchants Association members found out who could roll the 16 - pounder recently. Jim Trevor, the shopping center's landlord, rolled Vic Johnson of Tamale fame in a match with Mr. Fix It Bob Burns keeping score. Trevor rolled a 147 and Johnson worrying about a rent increase, dropped out with an injured leg.

The Neutral Corner

By JERRY LITTRELL

CRESTMOOR HIGH SCHOOL, which has undergone much internal surgery recently to insert new football, baseball, basketball and swimming coaches, has gone through one more change for the upcoming year.

Pete Pontacq, who coaches swimming at cross-town rival Capuchino High School, has been announced as the new head varsity basketball mentor for the 1970 season replacing Ralph Daniels, who had the job last season in place of John Christgau, who was on leave. Got that? Christgau is coming back from hitting some European hoops but will now stick strictly to classroom activities.

He may also handle a lightweight cage team during the fall.

Pontacq will be teaching mathematics as well as coaching. Daniels will stay on in the athletic department probably as a lightweight coach and the tennis coach.

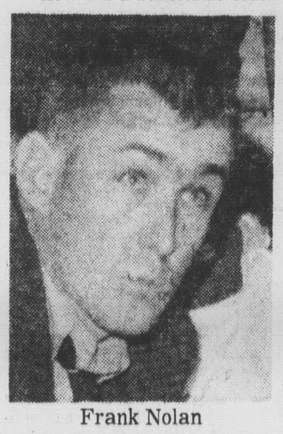
THE SERRA BASKETBALL LEAGUE, a firm fixture in these parts for the past several seasons, will remain in mothballs for 1970. That's because Serra varsity coach and league co-ordinator Frank Nolan is going fishing.

To Alaska. All summer. Commercially.

"After being around basketball for several years I feel a person needs to get away for a while and see another view of life," Nolan said. "I like to do new things whenever the situations come up that allow me that choice and I just feel it's going to be a great summer."

"I'll be stationed on a six-man troller working out of Alaska. We'll be working for a cannery on a commission basis. We'll be based all over but will probably check in around Anchorage for most of our berthings."

How did a basketball coach at a San Mateo high school get hired on as a fisherman for the summer? Glad you asked.



Frank Nolan

"There was an assistant teacher at Serra last year who had a friend who introduced me to a fellow who had been connected with the fishing trade in Alaska," Nolan explained. "While we were talking about various things he mentioned the possibility of hiring on one of the boats and he made a few phone calls . . . One thing led to another and I'm now set to go."

Nolan will be leaving for Seattle around June 15 and from there will go to Vancouver, Rome and finally Anchorage.

"Everyone does a little of everything on these boats. We'll be fishing, weaving nets, making repairs and just about anything except cooking. That they trust to just one man."

"You know, it's really hard to divorce yourself from the usual routine at times but if you don't get away once in a while that routine will eventually get to you," he continued. "The country is beautiful, just plain beautiful. The biggest hurdle will be the fact that I'll have to be away from my family for that time. There are no facilities up there for extra family members."

"We'll be out on the boat for days at a time chasing schools of fish. (From one school to another?) The profits or losses all depend upon the catch we bring back to the cannery. The whole crew works on a profit-sharing basis."

In his absence the Serra varsity team will enter the Burlingame league with Nick Carboni as coach while the sophomores will be handled by Dave Stevens.

"Just getting away for a while has got to help anyone when the next year begins," Nolan said. "I've never done it before but it's an exciting challenge and a great change from the normal routines."

CSM Track Athletes Win Spots In Modesto Trials

Athletes from College of San Mateo's championship track team have earned spots in Wednesday's Northern California trials at Modesto, along with both Bulldog relay teams.

All place - winners in the Golden Gate Conference meet qualified for the NorCal trials, which will bring together the best from each of the north's six JC conferences for a 1 p.m. session.

Trials will be held in all 16 events to pare the field down for Saturday afternoon's finals at Santa Rosa JC, which start at noon.

Oceana Spikes Beat Jefferson

Oceana High School's track team scored an 84-50 dual meet victory over Jefferson Thursday for the Sharks fourth triumph in seven North Peninsula League meets.

Larry Kermabon came through with the most impressive mark of the afternoon when he won the high jump at 6-2½. He also finished first in the high hurdles at 16.3 and placed second in the lows.

Oceana also got good work from sprinter Dave Williams, who ran a lifetime best 10-flat 100 for a new school record before he finished in a dead heat with teammate Rick Summy in the 220.

ANOTHER D.C. FIREMAN has bid farewell to the department as of May 16. Stephen H. Biggs listed his reasons for resigning in a brief letter to chief Herbert Ritzman, which included everything from disparity in pay with police (1) to "stringent and unrealistic" rules and regulations (8). Let me see, that makes about a baker's dozen that's left in the past 13 months.

FLASHY FLASH — We made a booboo (it's possible) about where that Youth Summer Work breakfast will be held on May 28. The latest is that it will not be held at Lyon's Restaurant, but at International Joe's place at Skyline Plaza.

STOP THE PRESS — We just learned "that" breakfast will not be held at International Joe's, but (perhaps) at Val's restaurant on Junipero Serra Boulevard. Quite honestly folks it might be better to wait until the 29th and we'll tell you WHERE we had it!

WE WERE DEEPLY saddened to learn of the accidental death in a traffic accident of Gordon Cartwright's young son last week. Gordon, a member of the Daly City Host Lions Club, has contributed much toward helping sightless youth in the Bay Area. The 15-year old boy was riding in the back of a pickup truck when it left the road and flipped over. Two other youths escaped serious injury.

AWRIGHT AWREADY, so we forgot. Actually we didn't forget about the continuing efforts J.C. Penney's company exec. Don Davis has made toward the summer work program over the years. This year Don pledged four jobs — as he has every year. While on the subject: The Westlake Shopping Center Merchants' Association has donated $250 to the work program. This summer might be the best yet, if everyone gets their shoulder against the wheel and pushes — or at least comes out May 28 and has breakfast with the group to hear what's going on in the community.

MIND BOGGLER IN NORTH — The North County Council of Cities chatted together at Oliver's in South City the other night — but that's not the story. The "story" centers around the infighting that is going on concerning appointment of a rep to the proposed Airport Transit Extension Study Board. With San Bruno's Karney Barberian no longer on the council (and the Board) a new rep had to be located. Daly City's Frank Pacelli was nominated first.

Before the nominations could be closed at last month's Council of Mayors meeting, South City's mayor Patrick Ahern jumped up and nominated councilman Frank Bertucelli. And even that's not the story Here 'tis:

At the NCCC meeting Ahern once again brought the matter up. But this time he wanted not one rep from South City on the Board; not two reps, but THREE — from D.C., San Bruno and South City. And to top it off each would get one-third of a vote. This would better represent the cities involved, both Mayors Neil Christal and Ahern feel. We want to know why Colma, and perhaps Timbuktu, aren't represented. In the "old" days a group appointed or elected one person to represent them — just like on the city council.

WE WATCHED WITH admiration as a young female Stanford student openly threatened to smash windows and destroy more property until the campus' ROTC building is closed down. Imagine, she said it on the telly for the world to hear and wasn't slapped with a bill for damages. Of course, they didn't have telly when I was her age, but you can bet if such utterances ever came from these chapped lips we'd of been slapped — with at least an open hand from Good Old Dad.

Actually, destruction of property, regardless of who owned it, was beyond acceptance to our limited minds, not being as worldly as the youngsters of today.

Come to think of it our family had the distinction of not being able to afford a college education (along with everyone else on the block) and barely able to get through high school because of something called "The Great Depression."

Our "campus" was a small room and lots of books, periodically interrupted with tests. I suppose protests against these unbearable conditions, and the Korean Conflict, could have been registered. However breaking the windows would have let the chilling air in during the winter and bugs in during the summer. Oh, what I wouldn't have given for an ROTC building to burn, or even an administration building to smash up and sit down in. No such luck!

We did Our Thing from day to day. Paid our income tax, gave a couple of bucks to the United Crusade (more as a conscience cleanser than anything else) never saved more than a few hundred dollars and griped every day we were in Korea.

But, God help the person who tried to take away my personal feelings on MY Country.

We kinda like what George Jessel had to say over that same telly recently: When your mother isn't feeling well and has serious ailments you don't poke fun at her or turn your back on her . . . you rally to her side to help.

County Farm Workers Lived Here

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The cluster of dilapidated shacks that once housed several families of farm workers on the western slopes of San Bruno Mountain are gone now—scraped away by the bulldozers of Hohn & Hutchins Associates to make way for a $2.5 million luxury mobile home park.

For more than two decades the deteriorating tarpaper and plywood structures were home for the workers of Golden Gate Florists and their children.

But the land, owned by the Cypress Abbey Company and leased to the flower growers, was recently annexed to Daly City for development into the mobile home park.

When it became evident last year that the development was progressing and steps were under way to annex the parcel, flower growers James Boniccosi, Gus Pedemonte and Roy Franzoia began phasing out the operation off Hoffman street.

(Boniccosi said Golden Gate Florists no longer grows flowers, but remains in the distribution end of the busines.)

"Many of these workers had been with us for years and we wanted to treat them fairly. That's why we gave them notice as soon as we knew," Franzoia said.

The workers began leaving the housing complex—one of several similar complexes in the general area—last June, according to Franzoia. By the first of May only two single men remained. Others had secured employment elsewhere.

Between 25-30 persons once lived in the "Tulagi" type former Naval buildings.

"We used to paint them every year," Franzoia said, "but we've neglected them since last year when we learned we would be moving out."

All the buildings had hot and cold running water, heat, flush toilets and showers.

The pay for the workers—primarily U.S. citizens from the Philippines—was between $2-2.50 per hour, plus free living quarters and utilities.

"We treated our workers good. They got a full check every week and two weeks paid vacation every year," Franzoia said.

He boasts that no worker ever quit the company during its 24 years of operation.

But other persons active in Daly City and North County civic betterment matters dispute the "They Never Had It So Good" claim concerning these farm workers.

Daly City City Councilman McRobert (Mac) (Stewart, former Planning Commissioner for eight years, remarked while touring the buildings after the last families were moved out by rodent control experts of Hohn & Hutchins that "pigs have better places to live."

Stewart said it was a "grave mistake" to allow such housing to exist in San Mateo County and to "deprive a person a decent place to live."

"Maybe, as some claim, these people lived like this where they originally came from. This is not a valid reason why this should be permitted in the county," Stewart said.

Another critic of farm workers' housing within the North County, who asked she not be identified, said she has had much contact with the workers

A Touchy Business

Free speech belongs to us all. It is a prized possession of the high and low, the rich and poor alike. The Constitutional right has no limit so far as the kind of person who qualifies. A laborer, a person on welfare, a businessman, a student, an office holder and a leader all stand equal before the law. This includes University presidents and others in important positions of institutional or representative responsibility.

But whether such persons should, as a matter of propriety and judgment, speak out on all issues is another matter. Organization heads speak not only for themselves but also for others, and all kind of trouble arises when the "others" don't agree.

The top man of any important institution (bank, church, college, university, charitable organization, etc.) enjoys a certain advantage. He is, because of his capacity and title, newsworthy and what he has to say is given greater weight because of his position. In terms of modern media, such an individual enjoys higher visibility than his fellows who are not similarly located.

As a consequence, those who have risen to the top of the institutional heap can affect general public affairs in a manner unattainable to most men. They can push on an important and even massive issue, and actually change the way men think.

But a Newtonian type law of politics applies. With every action there is reaction, and while such men can function as opinion makers on issues beyond their immediate responsibility, their ability to function as institutional leaders diminishes with each outside effort. Some men master the combination and artfully retain leadership while openly expressing opinion. Others fall short, and their difficulties are worth noting.

The prototype had to be Bishop Pike. A brilliant man, he engaged in a wild flurry of public rhetoric on issues of every size and shape. In his early days on Nob Hill, he was an influential opinion maker and effective church leader. But every time he spoke out on a contentious subject, he divided his flock. Some approved and some didn't.

Gradually, many members became disaffected and refused to be led in church matters. Some mistakenly reduced contributions in retaliation. In his later months as Bishop, he was no longer in a position to really lead within the very institution he had been retained to head. Reaction had consumed his capacity to function effectively as Bishop.

This example is deserving of serious consideration by those heading colleges and universities. Many claim a duty to speak out on all issues, and certainly all Presidents, chancellors, and administrators also have a duty to perform their more mundane and less exciting administrative tasks. But, as we have seen, these duties are, in part, at least, incompatible, and each such leader must balance the importance of "speaking out" against the requirements of the job at hand.

An immediate case in point — found in the recent declarations of President Kenneth Pitzer of Stanford University. In telegrams to the President and Secretary of State (made available to the press), he spoke out concerning Cambodia.

Now, some students, faculty members, alumni and donors agree with his position, and many of these persons may support him and the University more strongly as a result of his declaration. But others disagree, and their differences with him have unquestionably lessened his effectiveness as University President.

A third group (and quite possibly the largest) question his wisdom in speaking. They argue that he had plenty to do "down on the farm," and that he was retained, in the first place, to run a great University, not pontificate on the world's problems.

The fires of contention now surround President Pitzer, and he himself has become a part of the issue at Stanford. Having exercised his own right of free speech, he can anticipate use of the right by donors, alumni, students and faculty who disagree. As a result, the entire structure of people and pressures that make up a great University is in even greater turmoil than would otherwise be the case.

As Spiro Agnew is learning, it is impossible to unring a bell. The waves of action and reaction following important public statements continue in ways that are totally unpredictable, and these are now swirling about Stanford and its President.

Black Angus Steak House Now Serving

Stuart Anderson's Black Angus Steak Houses, the nine-restaurant chain from the Pacific Northwest which raise their own beef on their ranches, is now open and serving luncheon and dinner seven days.

The restaurant occupies facilities at Ninth and Claremont in San Mateo, formerly Dell Osso's and Petrini's. The million dollar showcase has been renovated with a more casual, yet smart Western decor.

A selection of choice steak cuts ranging from New York, T-Bone and Filet Mignon are all of one price — $3.95. Hefty Rancher cut and Lobster are a dollar more.

Much of their beef is provided by their 20,000 acre Black Angus Cattle Ranches of Central Washington, on the shores of the Columbia River. They boast one of America's finest cattle breeding and feeding facilities. Feeds are scientifically blended for maximum flavor and tenderness of beef. The restaurant chain's "crazy cow" trademark is the actual state-registered brand of the Black Angus Cattle Company.

Other steak houses are in Seattle, Spokane, Tacoma, Yakima and other Northwest cities. One opened recently in San Diego.

An attractive and intimate cocktail lounge features entertainment at the piano bar by "The Unpredictable" Johnny Earl Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Excellent banquet facilities are available for up to 225 persons.

David Rollo is general manager.

Romano's Also Full Fledged Dinner House

In addition to small, medium and large pizza, Romano's in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, offers a large selection of Italian full-course dinners. Enrico Romano spends many hours every day in the kitchen, preparing the fantastic sauces for which he is so well known . . . The Eve-ettes, a new chorus line now being featured at Finocchio's nightclub in North Beach, has been bolstered by three of the best dancers ever to appear in this show. Rene De Carlo, from the Mexican Folklorico Ballet, who also performs as a single, and the team of Estuardo and Miquel, both from the Mexican Ballet Company. The Eve-ettes open and close each of the four shows every night . . . It was a hectic week for Lew and Edith Lehr. The popular couple returned from a golfing vacation in Palm Springs just in time to kick off the twelfth anniversary of their famous Lew Lehr's Steak House in San Francisco's Marina district. The week-long celebration extended through Saturday evening.

If you're heading for Nevada over the weekend, the Connie Stevens show with Mr. Electric, the Sam Donahue orchestra and the Nugget's performing elephants, Bertha and Tina, are appearing in the 750-seat Circus Room at John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks, Nev. To say talented Miss Stevens is beautiful and lovely is understating Mother Nature. The Connie Stevens show will play through May 20, with two performances nightly (8 p.m. and 11:30 p.m.) and a third show on Saturday night at 1:45 a.m. . . . Golden Tours offers fun-seekers inexpensive junkets to John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks. Their $10.50 Giant Bonus vacation, leaving Monday through Saturday from Ed's Smoke Shop, includes $5 cash and $2 food and drink . . . Treat yourself to a glorious holiday weekend at Crystal Bay Club, North Lake Tahoe. You can't miss the glittering Crystal Bay Club sign; highways conditions are excellent. Cocktails and gourmet food are served in any of the club's fine eateries, whether it's the Snack Bar, Crystal dining room Steak House (specializing in Mahogany broiled steaks). And all at prices everyone can afford. There's entertainment nightly for dancing featuring The Val-Aires. . . .

Paruvian specialties are always being offered by Frank and Fannie Torres at their restaurant in Montara, just south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway One . . . One of San Francisco's most sought out dining spots for cocktails, luncheon, or dinner is the Iron Horse restaurant, located in Maiden Lane just off Kearny. It's a convenient spot to visit for theater-goers, business people, or shoppers in the downtown area. Banquet rooms are also available for any occasion — sales meetings, wedding receptions or cocktail parties . . . Bruce Watson's "Mr. San Francisco" Sounds now starring in Nero's Nook at the Cabana Hyatt House have a special meaning for Peninsulans. Watson is a prominent Hillsborough businessman who has also sung professionally for several years. His "The Shasta Daisy Song" for the school children's campaign to have Congress adopt it as our national song, is a big seller. Watson has also been a successful rancher and newspaper writer. He and his group are onstage nightly except Sunday through May 16 . . . The Sinaloa Mexican cantina in North Beach continues to deliver with one of the few all-Latin revues in the City of San Francisco.

Chicken Unlimited Birthday Surprises

Seems like only yestereday, but it's really been one year since Ed Chalkagian, Chicken Unlimited owner, served his first order of chicken to your Bright Lighter on opening day. A lot of "feathers have been plucked" since then, and an unlimited amount of chicken has been devoured at this South B Street restaurant and packaged to take out. The success of Chicken Unlimited has been the talk of the town. And is it any wonder—you can order your favorite chicken parts in unlimited amounts, or chicken dinners to serve the individual or large numbers. Besides that, you have a variety of fish specials, burgers, French fries, cole slaw, beverages and a dessert treat of hot apple puff. In celebration of their first birthday, Chicken Unlimited is featuring two big specials, each offering a savings of $1.65. All you do is clip the coupons in their advertisement which appeared in the Monday issue of the San Mateo Times and "reap the harvest." Offer good through Friday, May 15. Open seven days a week until 10 p.m.

Nell Norton
Sugar 'n' Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Everyone likes to win a prize. And when the prize is $1,000 for a recipe, that makes all the good cooks sit up and take notice. I'm sure when you try this recipe you'll say, "Why didn't I think of something like this " This smart lady won her prize in the last Pillsbury Bake-Off. And the thing that fascinated me is that the recipe was selected by the computer.

Normally a panel of food experts judge all Bake-Off recipes. But this Nutrition Award, was selected by the computer. The first judging phase excluded all of the final 100 recipes which were not reasonably well-balanced in the protein, fat and carbohydrate catagories. In the final screening, the computer scored this recipe as the winner — because it's low in fat and carbohydrate, but high in protein.

In other words, this main-dish casseroel contains three of the Basic Four Food groups;

Meat Group from the ground beef;
Dairy Products from the milk and eggs;
Cereal Group from the pancake mix.

When served with a green salad, souper Beef Supper gives a well-balanced nutritious dinner — for only 27 cents per serving. (That's based on one serving — one-sixth of the casserole.)

This recipe has much to recommend it. Beyond the obvious fact that it give you a excellent meal, inexpensively, it is also delicious and very easy to make. If you have a junior-cook in your household, just hand her the recipe and let her make it herself. If your junior-cook is also taking home economics she'll be interested inthe statistics about the four basic food groups.

SOUPER BEEF SUPPER

One pound ground beef
1 cup pancake mix
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1¼ cups (1½-ounce can) condensed onion soup
(Bake 425-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes)

Lightly grease 1 or 1½-quart shallow round casserole. Brown the one pound beef and drain. Season to taste.

(Measure the pancake by lightly spooning into cup and leveling off.)

In a medium mixing bowl, combine the one cup pancacke mix, two eggs, one-half cup milk and two-thirds cup onion soup (reserve remaining soup for sauce). Beat until smooth. Place meat in prepared casserole. Pour batter evenly over meat. Bake at 425-degrees for 20 to 25 minutes until crust is golden brown. Prepare sauce.

SAUCE

Reserved condensed onion soup
1 package ⅝ ounce brown gravy mix
½ cup water

In a small saucepan, combine the reserved onion soup, gravy mix and half cup water. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Serve over Souper Beef Supper.

Serves 4 to 6.

This next recipe comes from Canada. And in these days when most things arrive by plane, it comes by train. For it was published in a magazine put out by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

BRAN CHERRY NUT BREAD

2½ cups sifted flour
¾ cups sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup all-bran
1 egg
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 cup milk
¾ cup chopped walnut meats
1-third cup finely chopped maraschino cherries
(Bake 350-degree oven about 1 hour)

Sift together the two and one-half cups flour, three-fourths cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt and half teaspoon nutmeg; combine with the cup of all-bran. Beat the one egg slightly, stir in the two tablesppons oil and one cup milk. Add to the dry ingredients, stirring only until combined.

Fold in the three-fourths cup nutmeats and one-third cup chopped maraschino cherries. Spread in a greased 9¼x5¼-inch loaf pan. Sprinkle with Cherry Nut Crumble. Bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) about 1 hour. Let stand until cold before slicing.

Yield: 1 loaf.

CHERRY NUT CRUMBLE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons finely chopped maraschino cherries

Brown the two tablespoons butter in fry pan; remove from heat. Mix with the fourth cup each sugar and nuts and the two tablespoons chopped maraschino cherries; sprinkle over batter.

Seeks Girl Friend, Held

A young San Francisco man, seeking out the object of his affections, was arrested on chagrges of prowling and trespassing Monday after jumping from the roof of the girls' dormitory at Hillcrest Juvenile Home west of Belmont.

Booked at county jail was John Charles Hunt, 21, an artist, and at one time an inmate of Hillcrest himself.

According to Sheriff's Deputies Ray Mason and Michael Kerr, supervisors in the girls' quarters reported someone on the roof about 9 p.m. Supervisor Jim Richard Mott, 24, went to the roof, spotted Hunt attempting to depart and took him into custody, holding him for officers.

The deputies said that Hunt had gone to Hillcrest in an effort to see his girl friend who is an inmate of the home.

According to Mott, Hunt has been denied visiting privleges at Hillcrest because he once fired shots from a rifle at one of the buildings there.

Rabbi Shore To Leave Congregation

RABBI SHORE

After thirteen years of service which he reorganized as a Conservative Congregation in 1957, Rabbi Solomon A. Shore is retiring from his post as head of the institution.

B'nai Israel was founded in 1908 and served for a half century as the only Orthodox Synagogue in the Daly City area. It was the first Jewish house of worship in San Mateo County.

Rabbi Shore, who came to California in 1940, has served as rabbi for 30 years in three communities: Pomona, Modesto, and, for the past 13 years, in Daly City. He has been active in most local community affairs and represented the Congregation as a member of the Daly City Ministerial Association and as a member of the Board of Rabbis of Northern California.

The Rabbi, who is now recuperating from a recent illness, leaves the Congregation with the title of Rabbi Emeritus, and will offer his guidance and council to the congregation he helped to build. He hopes to render limited service to individual rabbis and congregations whenever his services are needed.

Simpson Chorale Plans Westside Baptist Concert

The Simpson Bible College Chorale, under the direction of Professor Russell Marshall, will present a sacred concert at the Westside Baptist Church, 390 Inverness Drive, Sunday evening at 8.

The program will also include smaller vocal and instrumental groups.

Simpson Bible College is the West Coast Regional College of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, and is accredited. The 50-voice chorale has recently returned from a tour throughout Washington, Oregon and Northern California.

Sunday School at Westside Baptist Church begins at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday morning. There are classes for every age group.

James McDnaiel superintendent, invited all newcomers to the community to attend as a family, and enjoy this hour of fellowship and instruction.

Pastor Donnelly concludes his class for boys and girls at this hour.

"True Fellowship" is the sermon topic chosen by Pastor A. David Donnelly for the 10:55 a.m. Morning Worship House message. This is the initial message in a series from the first Epistle of John. Special music will be provided at this service.

During the adult worship hour, two church services are held for children.

Primary Church for boys and girls four through six years of age, and Junior Church for boys and girls seven through nine years of age. Nursery facilities are maintained during all of the Sunday services.

On May 18, at 3:45 p.m., Junior Girls Missionary Guild will meet at the church. This is for girls of fourth through sixth grades in school.

On May 19 at 3 p.m. another Junior GMG group is to meet at 342 Warwick, Daly City.

Today at 7:30 p.m., is to be Bible study and prayer hour at Westside Baptist Church. Pastor Donnelly is leading the study of the book of Romans.

'Pressures' Topic For 'Witnesses'

"The pressures upon mankind today will increase greatly before relief comes through God's Kingdom," said Alvyn L. Franck, district supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses in three western states.

Frank's comments climaxed a three-day training conference for 17 San Francisco and Peninsula congregations. 2,371 persons were in attendance to hear his widely advertised Bible lecture, "Withstanding the Pressures of Our Day."

According to Larry Garabedian, presiding minister of the Daly City congregation, Frank said, "Today people are under constant personal pressure in basically three major areas, earning a decent living, sickness or accident, and insecurity because of increasing crime and violence.

"The responsibility of a great many of today's pressures rests on man. But with an understanding of the Word of God, the Bible, man is kept from blindly groping in the dark or striving after the wind in hopelessness. Bible prophecy has accurately foretold the pressures of our day because God knows the bent of man's mind."

A Memorial Address Set In San Bruno

Col. Robert L. Thomas, USMC, has been chosen to give the Memorial Day address at the annual Services of Remembrance at 10 a.m. at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno on Saturday, May 30.

These services are sponsored and conducted each year by the San Mateo County United Veterans Coordinating Committee, representing the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Military Order of World Wars, American Gold Star Mothers, The Marine Corps League, Disabled American Veterans, AMVETS, Veterans of World I and the San Mateo Elks.

Col. Thomas is a career officer in the Marine Corps with an outstanding record. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Gold Stars, the Air Medal with eight Gold Stars and the Navy Commendation Medal.

His many assignments include Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, 1st Marine Aircraft Wing and Deputy Chief of Staff and Commander, Landing Force Aviation, SEATO Expeditionary Brigade.

Following these assignments he was head, Plans and Readiness Branch, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff (Air), Headquarters Marine Corps in Washington, D.C.

Since July 1967 he has been commanding officer, Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps Unit and professor of naval science at Stanford University.

Confirmation Ceremonies For 13 Youth

First Lutheran Church of South San Francisco will confirm 13 young people on Sunday at 11 a.m. service.

These young people have concluded a two year study program which gives them a background and understanding of the doctrines of the church.

Those included will be Grace Brewer, John Brownlee, Dennis Dougherty, R.L. Faubel, Barbara Garcia, Cheryl Green, Ronald Hegdahl, Matt Johnson, Jeff Leibouvitz, Harold Loerke, Barbara Raff, Tom Schornstein and Doug Schwartz.

As their gift of thanksgiving to the church for the privilege of their Christian training through the years of Sunday School and Confirmation Classes, the class is presenting the church with a set of Altar Frontlets, sometimes referred to as Stoles. They also will purchase some filmstrips for the church library.

A reception for the members and family and friends will be held in the transcept of the church immediately following the service. The First Year Confirmation class will be hosting this.

One-Act Night

Mrs. Diane Streeter, drama teacher at Serramonte, will be the sponsor for a one-act play night at Serramonte High School in the Little Theater on May 13. The public is invited. Admission will be $1.50 for adults, $1 with student body card.

Students will direct, produce, and act in the plays to be performed that night.

A Casserole Collection From 'Home Ec' Kitchens

Teachers of home economics classes in San Mateo County High Schools have developed a series of recipes for casseroles. The dishes are recommended for potluck repasts involving larger club and social gatherings as well as for family fare.

Dorothy Lindblad's ONION CASSEROLE

4 large Spanish onions (or any large, mild onions)
½ cup grated American cheese
3 tablespoons shortening
2-thirds cup buttered bread crumbs
½ cup milk
Salt, pepper, paprika

Slice onions and fry in melted shortening. Grease casserole and place a layer of onions, a layer of grated cheese and buttered crumbs. Repeat until dish is full. Pour milk over layers, sprinkle top with paprika and bake in 350-degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes. More cheese may be used if you ike.

Dorothy Lindblad's CRAB MEAT CASSEROLE

3 slices buttered bread, cubed
1 can Crab meat, flaked
½ pound velveeta cheese, cubed
3 eggs
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt

Combine the first three ingredients and put into a buttered casserole. Beat last four ingredients together and pour over crab meat mixture. Place casserole in a pan of hot water and bake 1 hour in a 350-degree oven.

Mary Nill's TORTILLA CHEESE CASSEROLE

1 package (1 doz.) tortillas
1-third cup salad oil
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
¼ cup water
2 cans (8 oz. each) tomato sauce
1 cup commercial sour cream
3 canned green chiles chopped
½ teaspoon garlic salt
1 cup chopped ripe olives
½ pound jack cheese, shredded

Tear tortillas into bite-size pieces. Heat oil in a frying pan and fry tortillas until crisp, but not brown; remove from oil and drain. Meanwhile soak onion in water for 5 minutes, add tomato sauce, sour cream, green chiles and garlic salt. Stir until blended. Arrange ½ tortilals in a buttered 2-quart casserole, cover with ½ the tomato sauce mixture, sprinke with half the olives and cheese. Repeat these layers, ending with a layer of cheese. Dot top with butter. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for about 30 minutes. Serves 4 to 6. Double recipe for a large group.

Gola Berry's BEEF CASSEROLE

1 cup Minute rice
2 cups sliced celery
1 cup mushrooms
2 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons Soy auce
1 tablespoon chopped onions
1 cup cashew nuts
1 pound ground beef

Pour 1 cup hot water over minute rice. Brown onion and celery in 2 tablespoons fat. Remove from fat and brown meat in the fat. Drain the rice, add onions, celery, browned meat, mushrooms and Soy sauce. Put in 6-cup casserole. Bake 30 minutes in 350-degree oven. Add cashew nuts the last 10 minutes. Serve with 1 can mushroom soup thinned with 5 tablespoons water.

Terese Leishman's OVEN-FRIED FISH

1½ pounds sole filets
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup dry white wine
Salt
Freshly ground pepper
4 tablespoon flour
4 tablespoons cooking oil

Cut fish in serving pieces. Marinate pieces in wine, lemon juice and parsley. Mix salt, pepper and flour. Dip fish pieces in flour mixture. Put oil in shallow pan and place fish in pan. Coat fish on both sides with the oil. Preheat oven to 500 degrees. Bake 15 minutes. Serves 4.

A Treat When Beef's On 'Special'

When beef is on special, treat the family to a juicy roast with a dividend for another day. Let your oven bake the squash, and your Dutch oven tend the meat.

Bisque of Tomato Soup
Idaho Potted Beef
Baked Squash with Cinnamon
Tossed Green Salad
Chocolate Fudge Layer Cake (frozen)
Coffee Milk

IDAHO POTTED BEEF

3 to 4-pound beef pot roast
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed onion soup
6 to 8 small potatoes, peeled
¼ cup water
2 to 4 tablespoons flour

Brown meat well on all sides in heavy kettle; add soup. Cover; cook over low heat for two hours. Add potatoes; season; cover; cook until potatoes are done, about one hour. Remove meat and potatoes; thicken gravy as desired, using a smooth paste made by blending water with flour. About 6 to 8 servings.

Peas Belong To Everyone

In seventeenth century France, peas were the food of Kings — today, they belong to everyone. Aren't we lucky to have these sweet green gems to eat in so many ways, especially in a pureed form of condensed soup.

Soup of Kings

Baked Cheese and Tomato Sandwiches
Black and Green Olives
Apricot Crunch
Tea Milk

SOUP OF KINGS

1 can (2 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces rine
2 cans (11 ounces each) condensed green pea soup
2 soup cans water and mushroom liquid
1 cup grated carrot

Drain musrrooms, saving liquid. Saute in butter. Add soup, water, and mushroom liquid; stir until smooth. Add carrot. Heat; simmer 10 minutes or until carrot is tender and flavors blended. 4 to 6 servings.

Hot Grape Soup Could Be Logical—When You Stop To Think About It

Hot grape soup? You've got to be kidding!

But there really is such a thing — and it makes a delightful appetizer. It's really quite logical when you think about it. Fruit soups have a long and honorable tradition, both in this country and abroad. New Englanders invented a cider soup. The French have an apple and raisin soup. The Finns excell in a soup made of raspberries. The Hungarians are famous for cherry soup. And the Greeks have long served a hot lemon soup.

In addition to making a hot appetizer soup, grapes are at home in a surprising variety of hot dishes. Our ancestors thought a delicate grape sauce a delighful accompaniment to fish, meats and poultry, and generations of cooks have been experimenting with grapes on stovetop and oven ever since.

The grape variety most liekly to be used by cooks is the Thompson Seedless, the familiar "white" grape named after William Thompson, the farmer who first cultivated them in the 1890's. Thompsons are easily the most popular of all American table grapes, outselling all other varieties combined.

One reason cooks like Thompson Seedless grapes so much is that the green berries are a particularly accomodating ingredient — blending nicely with all the basic flavor categories, while adding an ingratiating flavor accent of their own. They're also easy to use — no chopping, peeling or pitting — and they're already bite-size. And since grapes are, as one chef put it, basically "moisture enclosed by a skin," they automatically make any dish juicier and more palatable.

But perhaps most important, seedless grapes added to a hot dish can give a festive air — and an individual touch — to a wide variety of existing recipes. For example, you might try the following original ideas:

(1) Add halved grapes to the next batch of pancake batter. Serve with butter and maple syrup.

(2) Add the surprise of seedless grapes to the hollandaise sauce spooned over eggs benedict.

(3) For a midnight snack, prepare your favorite fondue or cheese rarebit. Spear grapes and dunk!

(4) Prepare rice as usual. When tender, toss with butter, a dash of ground cloves and plenty of seedless grapes. Pop them into a hot split baked sweet potato with butter.

(5) Add quartered seedless green grapes to your next batch of cream of chicken soup. Add grapes and simmer 5 minutes. Serve topped with a dash of curry powder.

(6) Wrap grapes in tiny pieces of bacon and spear with toothpick.

(7) Toss cooked cauliflower, baby whole carrots, cooked cut green beans, into a well seasoned white sauce along with plenty of seedless green grapes.

Now that you've warmed up on a baker's half-dozen of hot grape dishes, you may want to try a few full-dress recipes that really show the potential of the Thompson Seedless grape in a variety of roles, from appetizer to dessert. The first is that hot grape appetizer soup — well calculated to give any cook who serves it a reputation for culinary genius.

HOT GRAPE APPETIZER SOUP
(serves 9)

- 4 cups apple juice or cider
- 1 whole nutmeg
- 8 whole cloves
- 2 cinnamon sticks
- ½ cup sugar
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 2 cups stemmed Thompson Seedless grapes
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 cup (½ pint) sour cream
- ¼ cup finely chopped crystallized ginger

In a chafing dish, heat apple juice, spices, sugar, lemon juice and whole grapes. When mixture is steaming, stir in cornstarch mixture. Cook at a bubble while stirring until mixture thickens slightly. Serve hot in small bowls topped with sour cream and crystallized ginger.

Seedless grapes are also a main course treat, particularly in the form of a sauce for meats — one of its first uses in this country. In particular, grapes help bring out the flavor of lamb, and provide their own juice to help wash a meal down in tasty fashion. Here's a new recipe for grape lamb chops, which brings together two ingredients which have been closely associated since Biblical times.

GRAPE LAMB CHOPS
(serves 8)

- 8 loin lamb chops, 1½ inches thick
- Salt, pepper, crumbled rosemary
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 small onion, chopped
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth
- ¾ cup water
- 2 cups stemmed Thompson Seedless grapes

Sprinkle chops on both sides with salt, pepper and rosemary. Broil lamb chops 15 minutes on each side or until well done. Place chops on a platter and keep warm. Melt butter and saute onion until golden. Stir in flour, Gradually stir in lemon juice, beef broth and water. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until sauce bubbles and thickens. Stir in grapes. Simmer 5 minutes. Spoon over chops. Garnish with fresh mint springs.

Grapes have a natural affinity for citrus fruits. Here's a recipe that combines them in an orangey compote — served piping hot.

HOT GRAPE COMPOTE
(serves 6 to 8)

- 2 cups orange juice
- ¼ cup honey
- 2 cinnamon sticks
- Juice of 1 lemon or lime
- 4 cups stemmed Thompson Seedless grapes
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons water

In a chafing dish or saucepan, combine all ingredients except cornstarch. Cook at a simmer for 10 minutes or until very hot. Stir in cornstarch mixture and cook until slightly thickened. Remove cinnamon sticks and serve hot in compote dish garnished with a small piece of the cinnamon stick.

Finally, here's a creamy, wickedly luxurious hot dessert that will delight the eye as well as the palate — and leave family or guests with the feeling that they've been treated to something very, very special.

HOT GRAPE ZABAGLIONE
(serves 6)

- 4 egg yolks
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- ½ cup Marsala wine
- 4 cups stemmed Thompson Seedless grapes

Combine egg yolks, sugar and lemon rind, in the top part of a double boiler. Beat with an electric beater over boiling water until slightly thickened. Add marsala and continue boiling until very thick and it holds soft peaks. Place grapes into stemmed glasses. Fill with hot zabaglione. Serve at once, for zabaglione separates on standing.

CTA Rejects Strike

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

In separate and inconsistent ballots, South San Francisco California Teacher Association (CTA) membership on May 5 voted to reject the school board's final proposals, then turned around and voted, by the same 2-1 margin, not to withhold services.

The second vote also went counter to American Federation of Teachers (AFT) voting on Monday afternoon, which was unanimous in favor of strike.

Bob Gehl, president of the AFT, said, "I find the CTA action unbelievably naive. To reject the boards offer but refuse to do anything about it is intellectually untenable.

"The CTA currently has no leadership," he said. "Hopefully the vacuum will be filled in the near future."

Gehl said he would call for a general meeting. He admitted it may be difficult to arrange, and even if set up, probably would do no good. A suggestion at yesterday's meeting, following the vote, that the CTA and AFT meet in joint session was ignored by CTA membership, which heavily outnumbers CTA membership.

Action by the CTA membership, which incidentally includes administrators as well as teachers, prompted one negotiating council representative, Tom Conlon, to stand up and announce his resignation from the negotating council.

"I wanted support. They didn't give it," said Conlon, who explained that he was not necessarily asking for a strike, but that he felt the membership in some way, possibly by withholding services, which he doesn't consider the same as a strike, should have firmly backed the negotiating council in its efforts.

Conlon earlier had addressed the gathering of teachers, saying there "has to be some discussion" on the matter because "there is some philosophy and rationale that needs to be aired.

Difficulty

He pointed out the difficulty the negotiating council had in finally getting the board to agree to the four per cent cost - of - living increase.

Conlon stressed also the work necessary to get money in the preliminary budget for salary increases, adding, "They took away five and gave you four per cent.

"What really bothers me," said Conlon, "is not the money, but the idea they (board and its representative) thought you and me (as negotiator) were stupid enough to accept that (fact the board was doing the teachers a favor).

"If I'm going to continue to represent you, I want you to tell me what to do," said Conlon.

Quick Start

The meeting got off to a quick start with Conrad Mezetta, another negotiating council representative, explaining the situation; what has been accepted and what has been rejected.

The teachers had no qualms about hurriedly voting 168 to 84, an exact 2-1 margin, to reject the final board offer as unacceptable to the membership.

However, after that was over, and the realization was before the group that they must now face up to the fact of whether they would be willing to put their jobs on the line to back this rejection, the tenor of the meeting changed.

"Obviously the word "strike" is a broad term," said Paul Goerke, second vice president of CTA who was in charge of the meeting. "It has to be defined, perhaps after the vote."

A young lady in the audience was a bit more impatient. "I vote that we do not strike. Let's get it settled and go home," she said.

Larry Heacock, first vice president of the CTA, planted the first seeds of indecision when he said that he didn't think it was showing a lack of courage not to withhold services.

"I don't believe in strikes for civil employes," said Heacock "Are you willing to deny someone else their civil rights? We can't go out (on strike) and deny civil rights to a school full of youngsters."

And the thrust home was successful after young administrator Pat Cannon spoke.

Canon, social studies and English curriculum coordinator, explained that he has been working with the public relative to the upcoming school district tax election June 2.

"They (the public) believe teachers and the district don't know what the real world is like," said Cannon. Small businesses are closing at the rate of two a day. I don't know that this is true," cautioned Cannon, "it's only what I've been told."

He went on to say that he was dubious about the outcome of the tax election. "Proposition 8 is a cop-out,' said Cannon. "The public will vote "yes" on 8 (which asks that the state take care of 50 percent of the cost of education) and "no" on the tax election.

"In Los Angeles, the people defeated a proposed tax increase 4 to 1, knowing a strike would happen. Then Proposition 8 was put on the ballot as a means of emphasizing to the governor and the legislature that the property owner is hurting," said Cannon.

The vote after this dialogue was 82 in favor of withdrawing services and 162 against withdrawing of services. Apparently eight who voted for the first measure either didn't want to vote on the second or left when the session was prolonged.

The measure that was defeated had as its objective; "to give the negotiating council some power, some force behind words."

Spadarella Urges War On Jet Noise

Frank Toto Spadarella, Republican candidate for assemblyman representing the 27th district of San Mateo County, today urged "the jet - deafened citizens of San Mateo County to move en mass to protest what may be too lenient a set of proposed regulations for controlling noise at the San Francisco Airport."

"The State Division of Aeronautics will present what it calls 'reasonable' regulations planned for control of airport noise at a public hearing in San Francisco on May 20," Spadarella announced. The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the Ceremonial Court Room of the U.S. District Court in the Federal Building at 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

"What the airlines call 'reasonable,' what the State may call 'reasonable' and what the people of San Mateo County, who have to live with the deafening sound of jet engines, regard as satisfactory noise control may be a long way apart. Unless we of San Mateo County make our position known in no uncertain terms at this legislative - directed public hearing, San Francisco's domination over the airport and our lives may never be broken.

"The head of the State Division of Aeronautics has stated that he wants to know how the people living in airport vicinity feel about noise control, so it is up to us to be present for the public hearing, in numbers.

"The State Legislature ordered the State Divsion of Aeronautics to prepare a set of noise control regulations under an act which would place enforcement in the hands of the affected county. But, there are forces at work which would substitute 'regional' enforcement for county control. This is a second danger which San Mateo County faces, for 'regional' could mean we would have to swallow what San Francisco wants. They don't live with the noise. We do.

"Therefore, we must first make certain that the proposed regulations, which would go into effect next January 1st, are designed to our standards for living with this nerve - shattering din, and then be prepared to see that our legislative representatives are not pressured by San Francisco to substitute 'regional control' for 'county control.'

"Let's not forget that as bad as the noise situation is now in the communities surrounding the airport, plans have been approved for the building of the billion dollar SST, which can lay a trail of sonic boom in a 50-mile wide belt. While we have been assured that SST flights will be confined to water routes, we have no guarantee that such a policy will be continued. Should it be found that the economic success of the aircraft depends on over land flights, what assurance do we really have that super sonic flights will not be buffeting us with shock waves, breaking windows, cracking plaster and taking its toll in shattered nerves and our very sanity.

"Make no mistake, we want to preserve our airport. It is a vital part of our economy, but San Mateo County must demand that every possible measure for the safety and health of its citizens be considered, now and in the future."

Suspect In 5 Burglaries

San Bruno police say at least five burglaries of automobiles in the city have been solved with the arrest of John Popin, 37, of 714 First Avenue, San Bruno.

Police said Popin was arrested after police became suspicious because the man was cruising neighborhoods late at night, and stopped him to ask his purpose.

After stopping the suspect, police said they found numerous items in the vehicle reported taken in at least five earlier reported car burglaries.

Candidate Cites School Problem

Anita Heyman, candidate for the Laguna Salada School Board, has cited the need for better communication between the Board and the general public as a major issue and then announced her own solution to the problem.

"I have long felt that a serious gap in communications has existed between the School Board and parents, teachers, students, and other interested citizens," Mrs. Heyman said. "It seeems that on almost every significant issue an air of icy tension rather than reasoned discussion has characterized public Board meetings. We have seen graphic examples in the recent confrontations over the school nurse and music instruction programs.

"More positive and informed dialogue is necessary if we are to solve the many problems facing the Laguna Salada School District," Mrs. Heyman continued.

HALSTED BANDWAGTN: Sam Halsted has enlisted an old time truck to help sound the siren for his campaign for the Republican nomination for the state Senate in San Mateo County. The fire truck and Halsted's strong position favoring conservation attract youngsters in every Peninsula city. Halsted supporters will be ringing doorbells throughout San Mateo County from now until the June 2 primary to inform voters of his qualifications for the state Senate. Halsted, former mayor of Portola Valley, was chairman of the County Parks and Open Spaces Plan and is an active leader among Bay Area conservationists.

Halstead Talk

Sam Halsted will speak at Westlake Lutheran Church, 222 Avalon Drive, Daly City, on Tuesday, May 19.

Halstead, recently mayor of Portola Valley and a candidate for the State Senate, has been actively working in conservation programs and environmental problems, and, it is in this area that he speaks to us.

The Westlake Lutheran Church Women invite all to join them at 7:45 p.m. at the church.

Brown Event

North County Democrats and friends will gather Saturday May 16, 4 to 7 p.m., to express their support for Congressman George E. Brown at a Wine and Cheese Party in South San Francisco.

Brown, the first member of Congress to publicly oppose the Vietnam War, is a leading candidate for the United States Senate.

Co - sponsored by the Peninsula Democratic Forum and Peace Through Action the gathering will be held at the home of Ruth and Leo Sack, 2248 Shannon in South San Francisco.

For further information call 589-8406.

Chairman Told

Appointment of Frank B. Ingersoll, Jr. as finance chairman of the Britschgi for State Senator Campaign in San Mateo County was made today by Assemblyman Carl A "Ike" Britschgi.

Ingersoll, Burlingame Attorney, served for eight years as chairman of the San Mateo County Republican Central Committee.

Back Britschgi

Endorsement of Assemblyman Carl A. "Ike" Britschgi for State Senator of San Mateo County was announced today by the United Transportation Union, AFL-CIO.

The United Transportation Union is made up of four former railroad operating unions, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen: Switchmen's Union of North America, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Order of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen.

Seeks Seat

Republicans in the northern San Mateo County area are warned that their party is in danger, according to John Penna, candidate for Republican County Central Committee.

Referring to the possible reapportionment of the North County districts, Penna stated, "The Party is not well represented in District One as proven by the lack of an opponent to Leo Ryan, Democratic Assemblyman, in the last election. Reapportionment would put us into an even stronger Democratic area and weaken us even further."

Penna contends that with proper leadership, the Republicans can build the Party in his district and overcome the present two-to-one ratio now held by the Democrats. If elected, Penna pledges to be energetic and inspire Republicans to build the Party in North County. He contends that Republican leadership in this area has been nearly absent in the past.

Currently North County Chairman of the Republican Precinct Organization, Penna believes that working at the precinct level is essential to build the Party.

At 27 years old, Penna is the chairman for the North County Young Republicans and is a third generation South San Franciscan.

As he stated recently, "Republicans from Brisbane to San Bruno must wake up if they want to preserve the Party in this district. We must elect someone who has the energy to build the party and I know I can do the job."

Executive Dies In Car

Andrew M. Dougherty, 58, of Daly City, president of a San Carlos industrial firm, was pronounced dead on arrival at Sequoia Hospital on May 5 after suffering an apparent heart attack at the wheel of his car.

Dougherty, president of Custom Craft Metal Products, 963 East San Carlos Avenue, apparently felt the attack coming on and pulled over to the curb in front of 787 Laurel Street about 11:20 a.m., Policeman Richard Fish reported.

The officer said that Dougherty opened the door of the car and collapsed onto the street. Police and a fire department resuscitator crew were summoned to the scene.

Dougherty resided at 86 Valley Street, Daly City, with his wife, Eva, and son, Michael.

DEATHS

MAE MAGILL

Funeral services for Miss Mae Magill, daughter of a pioneer Coastside family that had built and operated the old Miramar Hotel in Miramar, will be Thursday at 9 a.m. from Dutra-Randleman Funeral Home in Half Moon Bay, with requiem mass at Our Lady of the Pillar Catholic Church at 9:30.

Rosary will be recited tonight at 8 at Dutra-Randleman.

Miss Magill, 73, had resided in San Francisco since her mother, Mrs. Mamie Miguel, sold the hotel in 1944. The old Miguel Ranch, just off Frenchman's Creek and running east from the old Miramar site, is now part of the Dean and Deane, Inc., development and is the first planned project of the 8,000-acre former Doelger holdings.

The old hotel itself burned down in September, 1968. Her father, Joseph Miguel, built it in 1917.

Miss Magill had helped her mother run it. In 1944 she went to work as an office secretary with the federal government in San Francisco, retiring several years ago.

She collapsed suddenly as she left her apartment yesterday morning and was pronounced dead on arrival at Central Emergency Hospital in San Francisco.

Survivors include three brothers, Louis of San Bruno, Ernest of Trinity Center and Lawrence of Los Altos, and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Hoffman of Redwood City and Mrs. Dorothy Bello of Half Moon Bay.

ANTONIO ANTONIAZZI

Antonio Antoniazzi, 90, 467 Grand Avenue, South San Francisco, died Friday in Burlingame.

Funeral services were held yesterday from Nauman and Lincoln Chapel, followed by a requiem mass at All Soul's Catholic Church. Interment was in Itailan Cemetery, Colma.

A native of Italy and a South San Francisco resident for 63 years, he was a member of the Sons of Italy and the Italian Federation of South San Francisco.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Costa of South San Francisco.

AIR MEDAL

SACRAMENTO — U.S. Air Force Technical Sergeant Charles M. Murrie, son of Mrs. Louise R. Notmeyer, 145 South Magnolia Avenue, South San Francisco, has received two awards of the Air Medal for air action in Southeast Asia.

and their children living at the complex and found the facilities "better than most."

Apparent responsibility for enforcing the general provisions of the State Health Codes regarding sanitation at such complexes falls under the north San Mateo County Health Department.

Several attempts to contact this office were unsuccessful because officials were either "out in the field," "away from their desk" or simply off duty.

Where the former residents of the tiny community - wintin - a - community went after leaving the farm is unknown.

Meanwhile, developers Andrew Hohn and Gene Hutchins, backed by Accent Enterprises, Inc., development arm of a conglomerate known simply as "AMFAC," have started plans for phasing out a pig farm above the Cypress Hills Golf Course and a nearby horse stable.

Some 20 horses hve been relocated at a new stable at the Presidio in San Francisco.

The pig farm will be gone by the time the 530 space mobile home park opens, sometime next year, Hohn ventured.

The park itself will front on the Cypress Hills Golf Course, operated by Pedemonte, Bonicosi and Franzoia.

Plans are also on the drawing board to expand the golf course into a regulation-sized par 70-72 course with the construction of two new fairways on what is now a dump site east of the course.

Once completed, the course would border two sides of the mobile home park.

Cow Palace Plans Events

Dates of several national and special livestock events for the 1970 Grand National at the Cow Palace have been announced so that exhibitors may begin making preparations, according to Edith C. McDonald, livestock committee chairman and the only woman director of the Cow Palace.

"This year's Grand National, to be held October 23, through November 1, offers a great variety in livestock showings," said Mrs. McDonald, "and we are delighted to have these fine national shows."

Among the events already scheduled are:

The National Corriedale Sheep Show, Saturday, October 24;

The National Western Guernsey Show, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 27 and 28;

The Standrad of Perfection Polled Hereford Show, and the Western Breeding Swine Show, featuring Chester Whites, Thursday, October 29.

The National Ayrshire Show is scheduled but no date has been set.

Premium books will be available August 1, and entry closing is September 17.

Information On Boy's Hit, Run Death Being Sought By Area Highway Patrol

Help in solving the hit-run death of 13-year-old Robert Mick of Pacifica two weeks ago was requested today by the California Highway Patrol.

Officer Harvey Robbins appealed for help from anyone who might have some information about the case — including the hit-run driver himself.

"It just may be," Robbins said, "that the responsible driver is having a hard time sleeping nights. We appeal to him to turn himself in and gain some peace of mind."

Robbins asked that all residents think back and, even if there is only a remote possibility that they have some information about the case, to get in touch with the CHP

Young Mick was killed some time during the early hours of April 30, as he walked along the shoulder of Skyline Boulevard in Daly City on his way to Lake Merced for the opening of the trout fishing season. His fishing pole and tackle box were found near his body.

The body was found at 6 a.m. and it was determined that the boy and left his home at 7 Westcliff Court in Pacifica about four hours earlier.

"We ask that anyone who passed the scene or who saw a boy walking along Skyline between 2 and 6 a.m. Saturday to get in touch with us," Officer Robbins said. "Or anyone who has noticed damage to a car that could have been caused by hitting the boy."

Liquor Store Is Held Up In San Bruno

A tall gunman, wearing a three-quarter length fur collar coat and black cowboy hat, held up a San Bruno liquor facility early last Friday and drove off in a stolen automobile with an undetermined amount of cash.

Police said Obbies Liquor Lager, 189 El Camino Real, was robbed at 12:30 a.m. when the suspect walked in the front door, went to the rear of the store to pick up a few items and waited for other customers to leave.

According to police, the suspect, described as a white male 20 to 30, standing 6-4 and weighing about 230 pounds, approached the counter and revealed an automatic pistol to clerk William W. Whiteg, 36.

The suspect took the money, picked up the items he had selected and was seen driving away in a car reported stolen in Mountain View on May 1, police said.
